Lumber Industry Faces Crackdown By Price Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Price Commission says it will take "significant action" because of widespread price-control violations and illegal business practices in the lumber industry.

The commission said Monday it has found a 30-per-cent violation rate in price and profit reports filed by lumber companies subject to price controls.

"There's a little bit of greed throughout the system," said Peter Carpenter, the commission's deputy executive director who headed a special review of the lumber industry.

Carpenter said the review showed "the level of noncompliance is higher than in other industries" and that violations appeared to be scattered throughout various segments of the lumber industry.

The Cost of Living Council reimposed price controls on the industry in June after it was dissatisfied with pricing practices during a period free of the controls.

The commission said the Internal Revenue Service has launched its own probe and plans 367 separate investigations, more than in any other industry.

Identify Body As Ex-Ohio Girl

CHICAGO (AP) — A high school class ring led to the tentative identification Monday of a body found near Glenview Naval Air Station as that of a 17-year-old suburban girl missing since Aug. 26.

The Newark, Ohio, class ring, engraved with the initials "R" and "F" is believed to belong to Robin Feuerriegel, an office worker who shared an apartment in Evanston with another girl.

Robin lived in Newark before coming to Evanston with her family.

Koreans Give Park Lifetime Shot At Office

Extends Term, Removes Limit On Presidency

SEOUL (AP) — President Chung Hee Park's bid to retain office indefinitely with increased powers appeared to win approval today as a big turnout braved cold and snow to vote in a nationwide referendum on Park's revised constitution.

Election officials estimated more than 80 percent of the nation's 15.6 million eligible voters cast ballots before the polls closed at 5 p.m. There was no violence.

With opposition voices silenced by martial law, it was generally agreed that the voters would approve Park's bid to remove the limitations on the number of terms a president may serve.

The president, his wife and their eldest daughter cast their ballots at a polling station near the official residence.

The soldier-turned-politician told his 35 million people that the constitutional overhaul was needed to protect them from "big power" politics around the Korean peninsula, apparently referring to the Washington-Peking contacts and the establishment of diplomatic relations between Tokyo and Peking, and to help in the reunification discussions with North Korea.

The old constitution, which Park wrote in 1962 shortly after he came to power in a military coup, was suspended when he imposed martial law Oct. 17. He also dissolved the National Assembly, banned all political activities and shut down all universities, a major source of political dissension.

The proposed new constitution extends the president's term from four to six years.

Government Wants School Aid Refunds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government wants eight states to refund more than $10 million they were supposed to have spent toward offsetting the educational disadvantages suffered by poor children.

Letters went out just after the Nov. 7 election from the U.S. Office of Education seeking repayment of funds allocated under Title I of the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

Combine with previous requests for repayment, the $10.2 million disclosed Monday brings to $19.5 million the amount the government has asked to be returned from 18 states and the District of Columbia over the last 14 months.

In Monday's list were: Alabama, $589,546; Arkansas, $615,548; Kentucky, $295,378; Mississippi, $3 million; New Mexico, $5,429; South Carolina, $2.8 million; Tennessee, $2.3 million; and Texas, $630,155.

Most of the federal money was used to supplant rather than supplement state and local spending, federal auditors said.

The auditors, who acknowledge that the guidelines for the program were weak during its early years, say nearly $10 billion has been spent in some 18,000 school districts since fiscal year 1966.

The money was intended to help overcome learning handicaps brought on by poverty, racial isolation, neglect or delinquency.

Instead, some of it was spent for construction, salaries, office equipment, travel and educational television not related to helping poor children, according to audit reports.

Kissinger, Tho Silent But Smiling

Viet Peace Talks Continue

PARIS (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho scheduled another meeting this afternoon after talking for more than five hours Monday about the Vietnam cease-fire agreement they are still trying to nail down.

Both men emerged smiling from their first meeting, waved to newsmen, but refused to comment. They met in a suburban villa 15 miles southwest of Paris.

Kissinger conferred with Pham Dang Lam, the head of the Saigon delegation to the Paris peace talks, Monday night. A spokesman for Hanoi said similar close contact was being maintained between Tho and the Viet Cong's representatives in Paris.

Kissinger, President Nixon's chief foreign policy adviser, and Tho, a member of the North Vietnamese Politburo, reached general agreement in secret negotiations last month on the draft of a cease-fire agreement, but President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam has refused so far to go along.

Thieu's chief objection is that the draft does not require withdrawal of all North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam. He also contends that the council of Communists, Thieu and neutralist representatives that would be set up to supervise national elections in South Vietnam would in fact be the coalition regime which Thieu has said repeatedly he would not agree to.

Presumably these and other demands by Thieu are what Kissinger and Tho are arguing about.

Although Kissinger met for five days with Thieu after his negotiations in October with Tho, and Kissinger's deputy, Gen. Alexander M. Haig, Jr., spent two more days in Saigon 10 days ago, a South Vietnamese official there said Thieu now has asked President Nixon to receive a special envoy who would further outline Thieu's objections to the cease-fire draft.

The official said Thieu felt this position had not been clarified sufficiently despite his recent meetings with Kissinger and Haig.

In New York, Secretary of State William P. Rogers met with Foreign Secretary Mitchell Sharp of Canada to discuss the four-nation group proposed to supervise cease-fire. Canada, Indonesia, Poland and Hungary have been identified as the countries that will serve on the force.

U.S. Jets Downed In Viet Air War

SAIGON (AP) — Two more American Phantom jets have been lost in the air war against North Vietnam, the U.S. Command announced today. Two of the fliers were rescued and two were killed.

The losses raised to 124 the number of American planes reported downed in operations against the North since full-scale bombing was resumed nearly eight months ago. A total of 131 U.S. airmen have been killed or captured in the crashes, the U.S. Command said.

One of the losses announced today was a Navy F4 from the carrier Saratoga that was hit by surface-to-air missile just below the 20th parallel. The crewmen parachuted into the Gulf of Tonkin east of Thanh Hao and a helicopter rescued them about 30 minutes later.

An Air Force F4 crashed just after dawn today 40 miles east of its base at Udorn, northeast Thailand, and both crewmen were killed. The Command said it was returning from a mission over North Vietnam, but the cause of the crash was not known.

Monsoon rains limited U.S. fighter-bombers Monday to less than 50 strikes in the North Vietnamese panhandle for the fourth successive day. But the high-altitude B52 bombers flew more than 30 strikes against targets in the panhandle, and nearly 50 more just below the demilitarized zone, in the central highlands southwest of Pleiku and north of Saigon.

Ground action in South Vietnam intensified as cease-fire negotiations continued in Paris.

Communist forces shelled Da Nang before dawn and made a series of hit-and-run attacks in the Saigon region. Heavy fighting was reported for the fifth successive day just south of the demilitarized zone, and there was also hard fighting in the central highlands below Pleiku.

In the continuing battle for territory along the northern frontier, the North Vietnamese

Major Israeli-Syrian Fight Reported At Golan Heights

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Air raids, artillery duels and a tank battle flared between Israel and Syria along the Golan Heights cease-fire line today. Both sides claimed the other had lost two planes.

The small-scale war on the Golan Heights, captured by Israel in the 1967 Mideast conflict, appeared to be the most violent clash since the American-sponsored cease-fire of August 1970. It was the second major outburst in 12 days.

An Israeli spokesman said one Syrian tank burst into flames and was destroyed in an armored engagement near Rofid Junction. No Israeli tanks were lost, he said.

The Israelis also denied losing any planes in the strikes against Syrian army and Palestinian guerrilla bases.

Syria claimed two Israeli planes were seen bursting into flames and crashing on Israeli-held territory.

Damascus radio said 16 planes were involved on each side in the brief dogfight and denied Israeli reports of two Syrian planes downed.

Syrian heavy artillery pounded Israeli positions along the cease-fire line, and gun and tank shells were still being traded in early afternoon, the radio said.

In four separate waves, Israeli planes bombed and rocketed Syrian army and guerrilla bases, pounding artillery positions and an army radar station, the military command said.

An Israeli spokesman said a forward military position was wounded in the air raids.

An Israel spokesman said the raids resulted from "intensified terrorist activity" in the Golan Heights the past few days.

The planes hit an army base just before 9 a.m. and returned 90 minutes later to strike at three guerrilla enclaves in the southern sector of the heights the Israeli military said.

The spokesman said mortar shells had been fired at an Israeli army patrol last Friday, the same day two Israeli vehicles struck mines.

Two more mines were found today on a road in the Golan Heights, which Israel took from Syria in the 1967 war. Soldiers dismantled the mines and found the tracks of two men leading to Syrian territory, the military command said.

Israel on Oct. 15 announced that it would no longer wait for the Palestine guerrillas based in Syria and Lebanon to strike but instead would attack just whenever the government considered this advisable.

The Israelis charge that Syria supports the guerrillas, and the Syrian armed forces' camps and airfields are thus legitimate targets.

Apollo 17 Crew Boards Spaceship For Last Test

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 17 astronauts boarded their spaceship America tonight for the last major test before they are launched to the moon Dec. 6.

Wearing their space suits, Eugene A. Cernan, Dr. Harrison H. Schmitt and Ronald E. Evans are to enter the ship atop a Saturn 5 rocket shortly after 7 p.m. EST to run through procedures in the final 2½ hours of a practice countdown.

The test is to end with a simulated liftoff at 9:53 p.m., the same time the Saturn 5 is to be fired on launch night.

The launch team Monday night successfully concluded a six-day countdown trial in which all phases of the actual count were duplicated, including pumping more than 2,245 tons of liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen fuel into the rocket's cavernous tanks.

Launch Director Walter Kapryan said the test went very well.

After the test, the fuel was drained as a safety measure for today's exercise.

The final countdown for this last flight in the Apollo series is scheduled to start Nov. 30.

On Dec. 11, Cernan and Schmitt are to steer the lunar ship they call Challenger to a touchdown in the Taurus-Littrow region of the moon on the rim of the Sea of Serenity.

There they hope to find some of the oldest — and youngest — rocks on the moon. As a geologist and the first scientist selected for space flight, Schmitt will add a new dimension to lunar exploration.

They plan a record 75 hours on the surface during which they'll make three moon buggy expeditions, each lasting seven hours. They are to drive a total of about 23 miles.

Evans will remain in moon orbit aboard the America while Cernan and Schmitt prowl the lunar surface below.

No Bad Rods At A-Plant

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A nuclear power station under construction at nearby Moscow will be spared the type of fuel rod damage which has plagued other atomic plants in the nation, a utility company executive says.

William Dickhoner, vice president of the Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co., said the William H. Zimmer plant will have a boiling water reactor and fuel will be under only half the pressure it is in pressurized water reactors.

He said that New York, South Carolina and Wisconsin plants which have developed crushed or cracked fuel rods have pressurized water reactors. CG&E; the Dayton Power & Light Co.; and the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co.; are building the plant which is scheduled for completion in 1977. It is being built in Clermont County along the Ohio River and will produce electricity for southwestern Ohio.

On Oct. 31, the Atomic Energy Commission granted final approval for construction of the plant after a delay of 31 months for environmental studies and hearings.

JFK Note Of Compassion Disclosed

NEW YORK (AP) — While maintaining a watch at the hospital where his own infant son lay dying, President John F. Kennedy was moved by the plight of a critically burned little girl and took time to write a note of encouragement to her mother.

The incident, as reported in the December issues of the Ladies Home Journal, occurred on Aug. 8, 1963 at the Children's Hospital Medical Center in Boston.

Kennedy was staying at the hospital to be near his newborn son, Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, who was suffering from hyaline membrane disease. He was awakened around midnight when the baby's condition worsened.

As he waited for an elevator, he saw a blonde, 2-year-old girl lying unconscious in an oxygen tent, the article says. When he inquired, a nurse told him the girl was Sandra Cramb who had been badly burned when her bib caught fire.

The magazine says Kennedy then wrote this note to the girl's mother: "Dear Mrs. Cramb — We saw your daughter. I hope she is better soon. She looks sweet. John F. Kennedy."

"I can't tell you how those few kind words lifted my spirits," Mrs. Cramb told the Journal. "I began to feel for the first time, that my baby would be better soon and a few weeks later she regained consciousness."

Sandra is now 11 years old and healthy, although she still returns to Children's Hospital once or twice a year to have scar tissue removed. She lives with her mother and stepfather in West Ridge, N.H.

Kennedy's son died later on during the night that he wished the little girl well.

Probe Crime In Agency

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The U. S. attorney's office here is conducting a sweeping investigation of the Immigration and Naturalization Service in an effort to weed out agents who have committed crimes, an official of the INS employees' union says.

Noel I. Doran, Southwest regional vice president of the National Council of Immigration and Naturalization Locals, said Monday that an investigation is in progress and is supported by the union.

The U. S. attorney in San Diego, Harry Steward, would make no comment on the reported inept.

The New York Times said the study has turned up evidence of sexual exploitation of alien women and sale and falsification of documents.

The Times also reported that sources close to the investigation, known as "Operation Clean Sweep," said there is evidence of close ties between immigration officials and organized crime figures.

Jury Is Deadlocked In Cincinnati Slaying

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A jury in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court has failed to return a verdict in the first-degree murder trial of Ann Gray, 32, of Cincinnati.

The jury reported Monday it was hopelessly deadlocked. Mrs. Gray was charged in the fatal shooting of her husband, Robert, 34, last Feb. 1, at their home here.

House Chief Lancione Eyes GOP Cooperation

By PERRY SMITH

Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The new Democratic speaker of the Ohio House in the 110th General Assembly said he expects the same kind of cooperation from Republicans "as we gave them while they were in power."

Democrat A. G. Lancione of Bellaire, the current House minority leader, said he expected Republicans in the new House to "be in the mainstream of proper legislation."

"They have no place else to go," said Lancione, the small-town lawyer who waited 26 years to be named speaker. He was elected unanimously at a party caucus Monday.

Also named were Rep. Vernal Riffe Jr. of New Boston, speaker pro tem, Rep. Barney Quilter of Toledo, majority floor leader and Rep. William Malloy of Cincinnati, assistant majority floor leader.

The caucus gave Lancione authority to name the majority whip, a new post, and he picked Rep. Richard Celeste of Cleveland.

The new speaker is hesitant about giving his age, saying he is "old enough to draw social security." He is believed to be in his late 60s.

Lancione was in line for the speaker's job back in 1959 when Democrats last took control of the House but then Gov. Michael DiSalle threw support to James Lantz of Lancaster, who got the post.

Lancione said his first task will be to select committee chairmen. He has Rep. Myrl Shoemaker of Bourneville lined up to run the powerful House Finance Committee.

Democrats also plan to break the House Health, Education and Welfare Committee into two separate committees, with

Rep. Phale D. Hale of Columbus heading the welfare section.

Lancione had Rep. William Hing in line for Ways and Means, but Hing, who would have preferred Finance, has not indicated he will take it, sources said.

Rep. Arthur Wilkowski of Toledo reportedly was in line to become chairman of the House Judiciary Committee.

Large Deficits Seen Upcoming

Could Trigger More Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unless the Nixon administration cuts spending sharply or raises taxes, it faces large inflationary budget deficits during this fiscal year and the next, according to a study by the Brookings Institution.

The study said Monday that spending probably will rise by about $21 billion in fiscal 1974 because of built-in increases in the budget.

The study, by the institution's Nancy H. Teeters, projected a full-employment budget deficit of $13.2 billion for the 1973 fiscal year, that ends next June 30, and at least a $7.2 billion full-employment deficit in the following year.

If there is a $13.2 billion full-employment deficit during the current fiscal year, as the study projected, the actual red ink would be about $33 billion.

The full-employment budget is a technique adopted by President Nixon for putting an upper limit on spending.

It operates on the principle that the government should spend no more than the tax system would produce if there was an unemployment rate of roughly 4 per cent. The jobs rate is now about 5.5 per cent.

"Obviously, the achievement of a less expansionary budget would require cutbacks in programs or increases in taxes—issues that are bound to be in the forefront of administration planning and congressional deliberations on the budget for the 1974 fiscal year," the study said.

The White House has said it will not sponsor a tax boost and will try to keep the current budget in line by impounding some appropriated money.

Major Israeli-Syrian Fight Reported At Golan Heights

No Bad Rods At A-Plant

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A nuclear power station under construction at nearby Moscow will be spared the type of fuel rod damage which has plagued other atomic plants in the nation, a utility company executive says.

William Diekhorn, vice president of the Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co., said the William H. Zimmer plant will have a boiling water reactor and fuel will be under only half the pressure it is in pressurized water reactors.

He said that New York, South Carolina and Wisconsin plants which have developed crushed or cracked fuel rods have pressurized water reactors.

CG&E; the Dayton Power & Light Co.; and the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co.; are building the plant which is scheduled for completion in 1977. It is being built in Clermont County along the Ohio River and will produce electricity for southwestern Ohio.

On Oct. 31, the Atomic Energy Commission granted final approval for construction of the plant after a delay of 31 months for environmental studies and hearings.

JFK Note Of Compassion Disclosed

NEW YORK (AP) — While maintaining a watch at the hospital where his own infant son lay dying, President John F. Kennedy was moved by the plight of a critically burned little girl and took time to write a note of encouragement to her mother.

The incident, as reported in the December issues of the Ladies Home Journal, occurred on Aug. 8, 1963 at the Children's Hospital Medical Center in Boston.

Kennedy was staying at the hospital to be near his newborn son, Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, who was suffering from hyaline membrane disease. He was awakened around midnight when the baby's condition worsened.

As he waited for an elevator, he saw a blonde, 2-year-old girl lying unconscious in an oxygen tent, the article says. When he inquired, a nurse told him the girl was Sandra Cramb who had been badly burned when her bib caught fire.

The magazine says Kennedy then wrote this note to the girl's mother: "Dear Mrs. Cramb — We saw your daughter. I hope she is better soon. She looks sweet. John F. Kennedy."

"I can't tell you how those few kind words lifted my spirits," Mrs. Cramb told the Journal. "I began to feel for the first time, that my baby would be better soon and a few weeks later she regained consciousness."

Sandra is now 11 years old and healthy, although she still returns to Children's Hospital once or twice a year to have scar tissue removed. She lives with her mother and stepfather in West Rindge, N.H.

Kennedy's son died later on during the night that he wished the little girl well.

Probe Crime In Agency

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The U.S. attorney's office here is conducting a sweeping investigation of the Immigration and Naturalization Service in an effort to weed out agents who have committed crimes, an official of the INS employees' union says.

Noel I. Doran, Southwest regional vice president of the National Council of Immigration and Naturalization Locals, said Monday that an investigation is in progress and is supported by the union.

The U.S. attorney in San Diego, Harry Steward, would make no comment on the reported inquest.

The New York Times said the study has turned up evidence of sexual exploitation of alien women and sale and falsification of documents.

The Times also reported that sources close to the investigation, known as "Operation Clean Sweep," said there is evidence of close ties between immigration officials and organized crime figures.

Jury Is Deadlocked In Cincinnati Slaying

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A jury in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court has failed to return a verdict in the first-degree murder trial of Ann Gray, 32, of Cincinnati.

The jury reported Monday it was hopelessly deadlocked. Mrs. Gray was charged in the fatal shooting of her husband, Robert, 34, last Feb. 1, at their home here.

House Chief Lancione Eyes GOP Cooperation

By PERRY SMITH
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The new Democratic speaker of the Ohio House said he expects the same kind of cooperation from Republicans "as we gave them while they were in power."

Democrat A. G. Lancione of Bellaire, the current House minority leader, said he expected Republicans in the new House to "be in the mainstream of proper legislation."

"They have no place else to go," said Lancione, the small-town lawyer who waited 26 years to be named speaker. He was elected unanimously at a party caucus Monday.

Also named were Rep. Vern Riffe Jr. of New Boston, speaker pro tem, Rep. Barney Quilter of Toledo, majority floor leader and Rep. William Malloy of Cincinnati, assistant majority floor leader.

The caucus gave Lancione authority to name the majority whip, a new post, and he picked Rep. Richard Celeste of Cleveland.

The new speaker is hesitant about giving his age, saying he is "old enough to draw social security." He is believed to be in his late 60s.

Lancione was in line for the speaker's job back in 1959 when Democrats last took control of the House but then Gov. Michael DiSalle threw support to James Lantz of Lancaster, who got the post.

Lancione said his first task will be to select committee chairmen. He has Rep. Myrl Shoemaker of Bourneville lined up to run the powerful House Finance Committee.

Democrats also plan to break the House Health, Education and Welfare Committee into two separate committees, with

Rep. Phale D. Hale of Columbus heading the welfare section.

Lancione had Rep. William Hing in line for Ways and Means, but Hing, who would have preferred Finance, has not indicated he will take it, sources said.

Rep. Arthur Wilkowski of Toledo reportedly was in line to become chairman of the House Judiciary Committee. (Continued on Page 12)

TURKEY SHOOT—Although a rainy afternoon, 118 fathers and sons attended the Y Indian Guide Turkey Shoot, Sunday, at the DuPont Club House. First and second place turkey and chicken winners were: first row from the left—Sean Sackinger an Eric Eck, first place and Tom Ramsey, second place in the seven year old shoot; Jim Hill, first place and Pete Kazmierczak, second place in the 5-6 shoot. In the back row are Andy Macousis, Longhouse medicine man; Lance Bickel, second place winner and T. D. Van Camp, first place in the 9-year-old shoot; Curt Spence, first place and Jim Hipp, second place in the 8-year-old division; and Randy Clark, Longhouse Chief. Fathers and sons participated in the shoot by firing five rounds each with BB Guns. Included, also in the afternoon father and son activities was an orientation meeting for 27 prospective Indian Guides. The group of new braves will meet again at the YMCA 7 p.m. on Nov. 28. This will be an open meeting for all father and son interested in joining the YMCA's Indian Guide Program. Parents interested can call the YMCA Office for descriptive brochures and information on the Father and Son Program.

Westfall Board Discusses Williamsport Building

Westfall's Board of Education gave some attention to the Williamsport school building at its meeting Monday during which they also assigned a number of teachers the task of selecting new math texts for the schools.

Discussion was held on a report of the Williamsport school made by Weyand J. Weyand, who analyzed several earlier reports made on the condition of the building, and offered advice to the board on repairs and new construction costs. His cost figures closely coincided with figures from the original reports.

Bowser, who was recommended to the board by Gaede Architectural Firm in Cleveland, also stated that the belief that the building has architectural virtues such that the community has some obligation to save it, is simply not supported by thoughtful inspection.

Appointed to the mathematics textbook selection committee were Mrs. Dorothy Bush, Mrs. Mildred Davis, Mrs. Bernice Hulse and Mr. Jeff Bigam, teachers in the Westfall district. They will join teachers from other county schools to select a new text for adoption in 1973.

A resolution was passed to join with other Pickaway County schools and Ross, Fairfield and Madison County schools in a unified purchasing program for 1973-74. Under this program, schools purchase expendable items (such as paper and similar supplies) at a more economical price than possible when purchased alone.

Two additional substitute bus drivers were employed. John Swift of Williamsport and Melvin Parks, Route 5, Washington C. H. makes the list now number 12.

Passed was a resolution to accept tax rates as proposed by the county auditor. The rate for the district now is: local, bond retirement—2.6 mills and operation—3 mills inside and 20.40 outside; vocational school, bond retirement—.70 mill and operation 1.2. This is a total of 28.10 mills for the district.

The board rescheduled its next regular meeting for Dec. 1.

A supplementary contract was awarded to Mr. William Montgomery for high school GAA, volleyball and basketball.

Permission was given for the Williamsport Methodist Churchmen to use Jackson school gym for basketball; for Charles Debo, principal at WHS, to attend a Nov. 30 workshop in Columbus on educational technology; and for the purchasing of materials for the General Aptitude Test Battery to be given to all Westfall 9th grade students.

The board also requested cost estimates for a dust collector for the high school workshop.

All board members were in attendance with the clerk, Kenneth Reid, Superintendent Gordon Massie and County Superintendent Edward Martin.

Man, 109, Succumbs

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP)—Funeral services are scheduled Wednesday for Thomas Swiney of Richmond, who was at least 109 years old—the oldest Social Security recipient in Indiana.

The former railroader, who attributed his longevity to long walks and abstinence from liquor and tobacco, died Monday in a Richmond hospital.

Swine was not sure whether he was 109 years old or 110. Hospital records show he was born March 1, 1862, but Social Security files list his birthdate as March 1, 1863.

Some records give his birthplace as Bellefontaine, Ohio; others say West Virginia.

He came to Richmond from Fort Wayne, Ind., in 1961, drawing $40 a month in Social Security benefits and a small pension. A Social Security spokesman said he was past retirement age when Social Security came into existence.

Ohio Welfare Patients Face Eviction

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A spokesman for about 430 independent Ohio nursing homes said today the homes will begin turning out welfare patients Jan. 1 if the state Welfare Department carries through a plan to impose a cost formula on the industry.

John C. Wheeler representing the Committee of Independent Providers of Long Term Care, said his ultimatum affects "about half" of the state's 17,000 welfare patients now receiving care in commercial nursing homes.

In a news conference here, Wheeler, a past president of the Ohio Nursing Homes Association, called a planned Medicare-type reimbursement "disastrous" for nursing home operators.

Under the current welfare nursing home plan, homes are paid on a flat rate determined jointly by nursing home operators and the Welfare Department in which the homes make a profit. The homes are paid by the state a certain amount for each patient on welfare they accommodate.

Under a new plan to go into effect Jan. 1, Wheeler claims the cost in auditing the state's 1,200 nursing home accounts would be over $2 billion, which would be borne by the homes.

According to Wheeler, the "reasonable cost formula could be two to three times greater than budgets of nursing homes in the state."

Wheeler said he had signed a telegram from about 200 nursing homes saying they would begin turning out welfare patients if the formula goes into effect.

These patients would be referred to hospitals in their local communities "at a cost five or six times greater to the state than if they were cared for in a nursing home," Wheeler said.

He said Stark County, in which nursing homes represent over 90 per cent of the bed capacity, is prepared to withdraw from the welfare program and "desires an orderly removal of all state welfare patients."

Asked if nursing home operators weren't more concerned about making a profit than with the care of welfare patients, Wheeler said, "I suppose so. After all, we are an organization of investors. We feel any free enterprise business should be allowed to see a profit from its investments."

"We feel badly about this, but we believe we have shown in the past that nursing home operators care more about the elderly and the sick than any other organization in the state."

A three-judge court, sitting in judgment of two men charged with armed robbery, today imposed 10 to 25 year prison sentences on both.

Stephen Roscoe Jones and Danny Lee Minor, both of Columbus, were each found guilty of three counts of armed robbery and one of auto larceny.

The panel making the decision was composed of Judge Robert Tague of New Lexington, Gwynne Sanders of Marysville and William Ammer of Circleville.

Probation was not considered for the pair. Both received similar sentences—three 10 to 25 year terms for armed robbery and one term of 1 to 20 years for car theft. Jones was sentenced to the Ohio Penitentiary and Minor, who is 18, was ordered to the Ohio Reformatory at Mansfield.

The sentence are to run concurrently meaning Jones may be eligible for parole in less than seven years and Minor may be eligible for an early release in some 38 months, the attorneys noted.

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP)—Funeral services are scheduled Wednesday for Thomas Swiney of Richmond, who was at least 109 years old — the oldest Social Security recipient in Indiana.

The former railroader, who attributed his longevity to long walks and abstinence from liquor and tobacco, died Monday in a Richmond hospital.

Swine was not sure whether he was 109 years old or 110. Hospital records show he was born March 1, 1862, but Social Security files list his birthdate as March 1, 1863.

Some records give his birthplace as Bellefontaine, Ohio; others say West Virginia. He came to Richmond from Fort Wayne, Ind., in 1961, drawing $40 a month in Social Security benefits and a small pension. A Social Security spokesman said he was past retirement age when Social Security came into existence.

Indian Prime Minister Has 55th Birthday

The president also would appoint one-third of the National Assembly. The rest would be elected, but the assembly would have little power to check the presidential authority, and he could dissolve it whenever he chose to.

NEW YORK (AP) — Today is D-day of sorts for the Columbia Broadcasting System unless a miracle or a new contract intervenes.

Starting at 6 p.m. EST, the network's correspondents, anchor-men, announcers and entertainers are to start honoring the picket lines of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

The 1,200 cameramen, technicians and engineers of CBS who belong to the IBEW went out on strike Nov. 3 after failing to reach agreement with CBS on a new contract. No new negotiations are in sight.

It means that by Wednesday night we'll probably start sighting some new faces on the CBS Evening News and hear some verbal fluff, on the network's Thanksgiving Day and Sunday pro football telecasts.

The reason is that the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists, which represents the 1,700 on-air folk at CBS facilities around the nation, has ordered them to honor the IBEW lines tonight.

AFTRA is telling them to finish their workday if it starts before 6 p.m. today.

The big crunch for CBS starts at dawn Wednesday, when its management and supervisory personnel — already manning television cameras and broadcast consoles — take to the airwaves for better or for worse.

On the entertainment side, the AFTRA action means that two live daytime soap operas — "As the World Turns" and "Edge of Night" — temporarily will be replaced by films or reruns of other shows.

Six other soap operas taped here have enough new shows to last at least through Friday and three morning game shows have an advance supply of taped new shows that will last from two weeks to a month.

Come nightfall, "The Sonny

Hunting and fishing statistics in America are contained in a new publication of the Interior Department's Fish and Wildlife Service — "The 1970 National Survey of Fishing and Hunting." ect, Skylab, with three launchings next year during which men will be flying in space a total of five months.

After Skylab, Debus says, there will be a full in manned space activity, with only joint U.S.-Russian flight scheduled between 1974 and 1978. But during that time preparations will be under way for the revolutionary space shuttle, and during the decade of the 1980s manned ships might be embarking from the Cape at the rate of one a week.

There also will be a continuing series of unmanned satellite launchings, including probes to many of the planets.

"Some people have the mistaken impression," Debus said in an interview, "that Apollo 17 is the end of manned space flight for the United States. It's true we're going to have some dry spells in the next few years. But the outlook for the future is fantastic."

Debus said the end of Apollo will mean additional personnel layoffs here, continuing a trend that has seen the center's work force drop from 26,000 in 1969, the year man first landed on the moon, to slightly more than 15,000 today.

"I expect the total population will drop over the next couple years to 12,000," Debus reported. "After the U.S.-Russian flight in 1975, I think there will be another reduction of some one to two thousand. That number will be determined by what we will need to get busy on the shuttle."

When the shuttle becomes operational in 1979 or 1980, he expects the work force to level at between 10,000 and 11,000.

Debus, 63, began firing rockets back in the 1930s with Werner von Braun at Germany's Peenemunde base. He came to the United States after World War II and with Von Braun and other Germans helped develop this nation's space program. He has helped direct all 26 U.S. man-in-space flights.

Skylab, a two-story laboratory with the volume of a medium-size house, is to be launched unmanned by a Saturn 5 rocket next April 30.

The following day a three-man crew is to be launched in a modified Apollo capsule by a smaller Saturn 1B rocket. The astronauts will enter the Skylab 270 miles above the earth and remain aboard for 28 days.

Second and third three-man crews will visit the lab later in the year, each for 56 days.

The astronauts will conduct more than 50 different types of experiments aimed at developing techniques for surveying earth's resources from space, determining man's ability to live and work in orbit for long periods, extending solar astronomy beyond earth's dense atmosphere and experimenting with space manufacturing processes.

Between Skylab and the shuttle there will be perhaps the most significant flight yet — a joint orbital mission in 1975 by American astronauts and Russian cosmonauts. The impact of this symbolic meeting between Apollo and Soyuz crews can only be speculated on, but it could herald greater cooperation in many fields between the two space powers.

First manned test flights of the shuttle are scheduled from Cape Kennedy in 1978 and hopefully the rocket plane will be operational within a few months, functioning almost as simply as an airliner.

The shuttle will take off like a rocket, fly in orbit like a spaceship and land back on earth like an airplane. Each shuttle will be capable of making more than 100 trips into space before wearing out. Its two solid-fuel booster rockets also will be reusable after parachuting to earth.

Truman Didn't Want Veep Job, Daughter Says

NEW YORK (AP) — Harry S. Truman tried to avoid his own nomination as vice president in 1944 because he knew President Franklin D. Roosevelt was in poor health and he did not want to enter the White House "through the back door," his daughter says.

In a forthcoming biography of her father, Margaret Truman Daniel writes that Truman dropped his resistance after Roosevelt told him by telephone that to refuse the nomination would be to "break up the Democratic party in the middle of a war."

"Well, if that is the situation, I'll have to say yes. But why the hell didn't he tell me in the first place?" Truman said after Roosevelt bungled Mrs. Daniel recalls in excerpts of the book in the Nov. 24 issue of Life magazine.

Mrs. Daniel says in the book, "Harry S. Truman," that her father wrote of his reluctance to accept the nomination in a letter to her 10 days before the July Democratic convention.

GOP Candidate Screening Urged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Republican Chairman John S. Andrews will recommend a candidate screening committee to make recommendations for the party's state ticket in 1974, he said Monday.

Andrews stressed that such a committee could not make binding endorsements "although a recommendation might lead to that." He said he plans to make the proposal to the Republican State Central Committee when it meets again, probably in January.

The chairman said he thinks there is a need for such a committee because "we've got many people who are interested in running, some whose names have not been mentioned publicly. We've got no pre-conceived ideas about a screening committee. Obviously, it will be up to the state committee."

Court Rejects Paddling Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today rejected an appeal that school teachers in Dallas, Tex., had deprived students of their "fundamental liberties" by striking them with paddles and tennis shoes as punishment.

The appeal was made by the parents of two high-school students, Douglas Ware and Roderick Oliver. The Oliver youth was allegedly knocked unconscious by an assistant principal who was subsequently suspended, according to papers in the case.

The Court turned down the plea for a hearing without comment and over the objection of Justice William O. Douglas.

The complaint was dismissed last year by U.S. District Court Judge W. M. Taylor of Dallas, who said, "It is not within this court's function, or individual competence, to pass judgment upon the merits of corporal punishment as an educational tool or a means of discipline."

Angela Davis Plans Speech In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Angela Davis, who was acquitted of murder charges last year in California, will speak Nov. 27 in Merston Auditorium at Ohio State University.

Mrs. Davis, a black professor of political science and philosophy and an avowed Communist, will speak on the oppression of political prisoners in the United States.

NASA Looks Ahead As Apollo Ends

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Contrary to some beliefs, this space center is not going to go into mothballs after Apollo 17 is launched here Dec. 6 on the final moon-landing journey in the series.

In fact, says Dr. Kurt Debus, the Kennedy Space Center, which he directs is very much alive and ready to move into America's next manned project, Skylab, with three launchings next year during which men will be flying in space a total of five months.

After Skylab, Debus says, there will be a lull in manned space activity, with only joint U.S.-Russian flight scheduled between 1974 and 1978. But during that time preparations will be under way for the revolutionary space shuttle, and during the decade of the 1980s manned ships might be embarking from the Cape at the rate of one a week.

The shuttle will be the size of a DC9 airliner and can be flown by two pilots. It can carry up to 65,000 pounds of payload and passengers who do not have to be trained astronauts. Scientists, medical experts, meteorologists, anyone in good health, can make the trip.

The craft's first function will be to carry unmanned satellites into orbit. On some missions the shuttle will serve as an interim space station, flying 30-day or more journeys. When large international laboratories orbit, perhaps in the next decade, the shuttle could ferry men and supplies between earth and the station.

Debus said a current traffic model envisions 721 shuttle launchings between 1979 and 1990.

The network's other taped shows — like "Maude" and "The New Bill Cosby Show" — are good through mid-December at least and, in Cosby's case, until the first week in January.

On the news side, a search has been under way since Thursday to find another Arnold Zenker for the CBS evening news. As many as 50 would-be Zenkers have been auditioned for the job so far.

Zenker, now an AFTRA member and proprietor of a television talk show in Boston, is the former CBS executive who replaced Walter Cronkite during AFTRA's 13-day strike against the networks in 1967.

There was no word by late Monday as to who would fill Cronkite's chair and the slots occupied by correspondents and local reporters and anchormen now working at CBS' five television stations in the United States.

Improved GI Bill

A bill passed by the 92nd Congress in its waning days and signed by the President liberalized educational benefits for veterans. It was one of the few changes in veterans' benefits in a number of years and came at a time when the number of veterans entering college had dropped below the levels following the last two wars.

Whatever the reason for the slackening interest in higher education by today's veteran, the financial pressure has been reduced by the new measure. Benefits to the unmarried veteran have been increased from $175 a month to $220. For a married veteran with one child assistance of $298 a month can be provided.

Some veterans may still find it necessary to supplement the GI Bill with savings or part-time employment to fund higher campus costs of today. But that has been true of the GI Bill from its inception and it is equally true for many non-veterans who must provide all the funds for their schooling.

If the trend continues among many veterans to opt out of returning to the classroom after their service, the reason will be found elsewhere than in the financial burden.

Argentine Ghost

Juan Domingo Peron officially has been ruled a non-candidate in Argentina's national elections scheduled for next March. That does not stop his supporters, however, from launching their bid in Peron's behalf. All they need at this point is the candidate himself, and there are rumors that the man who was sent into exile 17 years ago may be preparing for a trip home.

The ruling government of President Lanusse says Peron is welcome to come home, and promises to provide protection for the ex-dictator if he does.

The war of words which has been underway between Peron and the government for months may have reached an impasse which demands action by one or the other.

By government decree, Peron is ineligible to become a candidate for the presidency next year. That is a point Peron disputes from the sanctity of his Spanish exile. More to the point, his supporters in Argentina believe all that is necessary to change that decree is Peron's presence on the Argentine scene.

No Sale

By Western standards, the Soviet consumer never has had an easy time of it. His choice of products is severely limited, shortages of even staple items abound, and quality frequently is shabby.

Add to that the bureaucratic bungling of a centrally-planned economy, and the renowned patience of the Soviet peasant becomes sorely tried.

One recent example of the way Soviet planners manage to produce monumental goofs involved semi-automatic washing machines. First introduced in limited numbers in 1970, the concept was an instant success. So much so, consumers would rather wait for the semi-automatic machine than purchase a non-automatic.

Belatedly, it was discovered that the more modern machines' power requirements exceed that available from Soviet residential housing. Back to the washboard.

As a result of consumed dissatisfaction with the offerings on store shelves, savings of Soviet workers multiplied almost five times between 1960 and 1970. Apparently they are postponing unnecessary purchases while waiting for a time when conditions will improve.

Questions Taxpayers Ask

Q. I deducted a casualty loss on my 1971 return for damage caused to my house by a hailstorm, this year, my insurance company gave me a greater reimbursement for my loss than I had originally estimated. Is this taxable?

A. Yes. If you receive a larger reimbursement than you estimated you would recover, after you claimed a deduction for the loss, you must include in your income, for the year of recovery, the amount that exceeds the loss you deducted in your tax return. You do not recompute the tax for the year you claimed the deduction.

Q. I just took a job as a waiter. My employer tells me that I must report my tips to him each month. Is this true?

A. Yes. If you receive cash tips of $20 or more in a month while working for any one employer, you must report to that employer the total amount of those tips on or before the 10th day of the following month. Your employer needs these reports to collect the social security and income tax due on the tips. He will deduct these from your regular wages.

Q. My teenage son wants a new car for his birthday. Would it make any difference from a tax standpoint whether he buys the car or I purchase it for him?

A. If you purchase the car and are liable for payments, you may deduct the interest payments and sales tax on the car. However, if the car cost more than $3,000, you will have to file a Federal gift tax return. If you plan to claim your son as a dependent, it would make no difference whether you or your son bought the car because such an item is not considered in determining total support.

Q. Does the IRS automatically impose a penalty on a taxpayer who underpays his estimated tax installment?

A. A penalty of 6 percent per year is imposed by law for underpayment of installments of estimated tax except in certain situations. The penalty does not apply if each installment is paid on time and (1) is at least 80 percent (66-2/3 percent for farmers or fishermen) of the amount due on the basis of the tax shown on the return for the taxable year, (2) is at least as much as would have been paid if based on the tax shown on your prior year's return, or (3) is based on a tax computed by using your income for last year and this year's tax rates and exemptions. For additional exceptions in unusual cases see Form 2210, Underpayment of Estimated Income Tax By Individuals, available at your local IRS office. Farmers and fishermen should use Form 2210F.

WEDNESDAY'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have considerable mental agility now and can see clearly how best to accomplish what needs doing by combining mental and manual abilities for excellent results. But make a point to carry through with what you start now.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) A good day to make the appointments necessary for gaining your cherished aims since the power of the planets is with you. Plan a new course that will bring greater success in the near future. Avoid one who makes you feel uncomfortable.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Handle all those small tasks of a financial or property nature early and get real success from them, since they are vital to the overall picture. Fine day for making collections and payments, too.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Gain personal aims by getting together with others and coming straight to the point. Take the health and beauty treatments you need first. Get some reading done before you retire.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Make those preparations early that will bring you more success in the very near future. If you consult an expert in your field of endeavor, you will be able to add much to your present income. Do so confidentially, though.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Get in touch with good friends and show you are devoted to them. Become part of those group meetings that will bring forth the facts you need just now. Avoid one who is a real troublemaker.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Show your finest capabilities in official circles and find the right outlet for them. You can improve your image greatly via civic affairs. Avoid one who has his or her eye on your assets.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Plan time for investigating what can be the key to greater success and happiness. Communicating with people whose views are different from yours is fine. Learn a good deal thusly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Gain the trust of others by paying your bills on time and making the collections that are due you. The evening is excellent for romance with the one you like the most. Show you are a charming person.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get together with an ally and talk over future plans so you can both become more prosperous, can make that project work properly. More devotion and less apathy with mate is important. Show you are a reasonable person.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can get many little tasks out of the way quickly during this mid-week day that have been accumulating and you are not so busy with other things. Listen to what co-workers have to suggest for greater progress in the near future.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Plan the day's recreations early so you can get right into them after a hard day's work. Show the one you love how truly devoted you are. A spirit of generosity can be most helpful now. Avoid one who argues.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Give more attention to home and family today and you find that conditions improve there considerably. Either entertain or relax at home in p.m., and make everyone happy there, show you are a good family man or woman.

YOUR HEALTH...

by LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

I am a schoolteacher, and after a day of work with children I am completely hoarse.

After a few days of rest the hoarseness stops. My voice becomes clear.

My concern, of course, is the possibility of permanent damage to my vocal cords.

Miss G. R., Calif.

Dear Miss R.: The vocal cords are two small muscles in the larynx, or voice box. They come together during speech, and separate when we breathe. Like all muscles, when they are overused, they become fatigued.

The vocal cords, pounding against each other all day long, actually cause moderate swelling of the lining that surrounds them. The result is hoarseness.

If these muscles are not rested, the injury to the vocal cords can produce chronic changes so that eventually voice production is reduced markedly.

Hoarseness is, in your case, an occupational hazard. Many teachers, singers, preachers and salesmen must learn to modify the use of their vocal cords if chronic changes in the cords are to be avoided.

After a day's work, a good idea is to use warm steam for a few minutes. This is a very soothing treatment. In addition, it is important not to whisper, for whispering actually puts more of a strain on the vocal cords than soft or modulated speaking.

You did not mention in your letter whether you smoked. If you do, I would most strongly advise you to stop. Tobacco smoke is an irritant which adds to the swelling of the larynx after a full day of vocal activity.

I have, for a long time, been taking an antibiotic for acne. Now I find that it causes terrible itching of the skin.

The doctor wants me to stop because he believes I have developed an allergy to the drug.

Miss R. R., Maine

Dear Miss R.: Some drugs, when taken over a long period of time, can cause allergic, or sensitivity, reactions. For this reason doctors do not prescribe them for indefinite periods of time.

Doctors will often vary drugs from time to time in order to avoid the possibility of side reactions.

It is wise to discontinue the antibiotic that is causing the distress and shift, under your doctor's direction, to some other form of treatment.

It may be possible for you to return to this antibiotic after a reasonable period of time.

Dem Opportunity

By JEFFREY HART

No doubt everyone has now read just about all he wants to read about the 1972 elections. Still, in historical perspective, that Presidential election may turn out to have been very important for the Democratic Party — a disaster, yes, but also perhaps a bridge to a new political configuration.

Consider: The Republican Party of 1968 and 1972, at least on the Presidential level, was reborn in the disaster of 1964. For the first time, in 1964, the Southern and Western drift of the Republican Party was ratified electorally. This development had been partly obscured in the Eisenhower landslide; but the Republican transition prefigured in 1964 provided the Republicans in 1972 with their sure-thing 140-170 electoral vote advantage at the start of the race.

Post 1972, the Democratic hope is that the party will be able to negotiate a similar transition.

One additional point of consideration. The Republican gain in 1964-1972 was not only quantitative but qualitative. New energies became available for an until then static (Taft-Willkie-Dewey) party. The South and the Southwest did not represent only additional electoral votes. They were fresh sources of money, talent, and energy.

By 1972 the Democratic Party was ready — indeed was obliged — to seek new sources of talent, energy, and money.

For the immediate future, at least, the South is irretrievably lost to them, and so probably are the Border States. At the Presidential level at least, the Democrats must grope for new sources of power in the political equation. And the decision it took, though not paying off this time, may have been the only one available to it: cultivate the young, the fashionable minorities, and the activist women.

In its modern history, the Democratic Party has drawn strength from its contradictions. It has been the party that could assimilate those contradictions. One set may be symbolized by such tickets as Stevenson, Sparkman, Roosevelt-Garner, Truman-Barkley, and Kennedy-Johnson. The Northern Democratic leader could "talk to the South," and, if he could bridge that huge contradiction, he had a chance to talk to the other diverse interests and groups as well. That contradiction, to be sure, was egregious, but it was papered over by courtliness and skill (FDR), material interest (TVA, Rural Electrification, pork barrel) and Party interest (seniority).

But beginning in 1948 the hitherto submerged problem of the Negro split the Democrats asunder.

And this produced, at least nationally, a desperate situation. In 1968, the Wallace third party partly concealed its desperation; but in 1972 the electoral chickens came home to roost.

Nevertheless, the Democrats have a new and not altogether hopeless card to play. What they have in mind, as reflected in the McGovern reforms and the Miami quotas, is to hazard the bridging of an entirely new set of contradictions — this time not sectional, but ethnic, generational, and ideological.

The assumptions implicit in the procedure of the new post-New Deal Democratic Party may be spelled out as follows:

1) Not much headway can be made in the South, where the Democratic Party, or what is left of it, will be mostly black. Therefore, forget some 100-150 electoral votes.

2) But, even conceding that much, the fight is far from over. The Democrats can draw energy from new sources. There is plenty of new money around: even George McGovern demonstrated that. There is plenty of talent: the Democratic tacticians and speech writers are first rate, probably better than Nixon's. The Democrats monopolize the media flacks. The campus represents a talent pool. But there is a third card, a wild joker:

3) New energies really are loose in the society, narrow but also formidable. They are connected with the fashionable minorities, the activist women, and the post-World War II generation. I have noticed that in American society, significantly, only these groups have the egotism and aggression actually to insult someone. The rest take it lying down.

On the Presidential level, the Democrats' opportunity lies in the fact that it is hard to deny the claims of talent energy and money. But, with 1972 in mind, their handicaps remain enormous, too.

The Business World

By LAURANCE F. STUNTZ (For John Cuniff)

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard Gilbert, the new president of the U.S. Savings and Loan League, expects one of his biggest challenges will be block the threat of a commercial bank monopoly in certain consumer finance services.

If that sounds odd to you it should be remembered that savings and loan associations are not banks. Their services are limited to savings accounts and loans, mainly for housing. Their essential purpose is to channel the savings of ordinary Americans into housing. They are the biggest home mortgage lenders in a nation of 63 percent home ownership.

But they are beginning to balk at the restraints, which they feel could place them at a distinct disadvantage in this electronic world.

They cannot, for example, offer third-party transfer of funds. In its simplest form, a third-party transfer would be the use of a check written by you to transfer funds out of your account into that of another.

This is done 23 million times a day by holders of checking accounts, every one of which is at a commercial bank. Savings and loans cannot offer them.

Now the fund transfer system is about to become more complex, and the associations worry that, while they could live without such powers in the past, they may not be able to in the future.

The reason is that banks are developing plans to join into groups that would transfer funds electronically. Your paycheck, for example, would be deposited directly into your bank, and the bank then would pay certain bills.

Moreover, it is now generally agreed that the shopper of the future will use a plastic card with a magnetic strip that will permit the store to deduct instantly the purchase price from your account and transfer it to theirs.

If the savings and loans are excluded from such systems it could mean disaster. The added convenience of such commercial bank services would likely be more than the S&Ls could offset with their higher interest on savings.

"A monopoly wasn't granted to the banks from Mt. Sinai," said Gilbert in an interview at the S&L convention in Miami Beach.

He indicated that he and other S&L officials intend to use every legal means to prevent a monopoly of fund transfer services.

"The nation will be better served by two systems," he said. "Banks take care of commerce and industry, and we family financial centers to serve people."

Gilbert, who is president of Citizens Savings Association, Canton, Ohio, also faces the legislative matter of converting savings and loan associations, which are mutually owned by depositors, into stock companies.

Many association leaders have proposed conversion as the answer to continued growth. It would mean that S&Ls would attract investor money in the same way as General Motors.

This conceivably would mean a windfall for existing passbook holders who, in addition to their savings accounts, would most likely have to be given stock also.

Gilbert expects an "active legislative year." Congress also is interested in tax revisions. And controls on interest rates expire June 1, and in all likelihood must be replaced, perhaps with some changes.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, Nov. 21, the 326th day of 1972. There are 40 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1877, Thomas A. Edison announced that he had invented a talking machine. He called it the phonograph.

On this date: In 1789, North Carolina ratified the U.S. Constitution.

In 1806, Napoleon Bonaparte issued the Berlin decrees, declaring a blockade of the British Isles.

In 1894, the Japanese captured the Manchurian city of Port Arthur.

In 1933, William Bullitt became the first U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union.

In 1938, the western border areas of Czechoslovakia were forcibly incorporated into the German Reich.

In 1961, West Berlin police turned back thousands of West Berlin university students trying to storm barriers dividing the city.

Ten years ago: Communist China agreed to a cease-fire on the India-China border.

Five years ago: Gen. William Westmoreland said the end of the Vietnam war was beginning to come into view.

One year ago: U.S. bombers struck in North and South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia and an upsurge of ground fighting was reported in South Vietnam.

Thought for today: American husbands are the best in the world. No other husbands are so generous to their wives or can be so easily divorced—the late novelist Elinor Glynn.

They'll Do It Every Time

Improved GI Bill

A bill passed by the 92nd Congress in its waning days and signed by the President liberalized educational benefits for veterans. It was one of the few changes in veterans' benefits in a number of years and came at a time when the number of veterans entering college had dropped below the levels following the last two wars.

Whatever the reason for the slackening interest in higher education by today's veteran, the financial pressure has been reduced by the new measure. Benefits to the unmarried veteran have been increased from $175 a month to $220. For a married veteran with one child assistance of $298 a month can be provided.

Some veterans may still find it necessary to supplement the GI Bill with savings or part-time employment to fund higher campus costs of today. But that has been true of the GI Bill from its inception and it is equally true for many non-veterans who must provide all the funds for their schooling.

If the trend continues among many veterans to opt out of returning to the classroom after their service, the reason will be found elsewhere than in the financial burden.

Argentine Ghost

Juan Domingo Peron officially has been ruled a non-candidate in Argentina's national elections scheduled for next March. That does not stop his supporters, however, from launching their bid in Peron's behalf. All they need at this point is the candidate himself, and there are rumors that the man who was sent into exile 17 years ago may be preparing for a trip home.

The ruling government of President Lanusse says Peron is welcome to come home, and promises to provide protection for the ex-dictator if he does.

The war of words which has been underway between Peron and the government for months may have reached an impasse which demands action by one or the other.

By government decree, Peron is ineligible to become a candidate for the presidency next year. That is a point Peron disputes from the sanctity of his Spanish exile. More to the point, his supporters in Argentina believe all that is necessary to change that decree is Peron's presence on the Argentine scene.

No Sale

By Western standards, the Soviet consumer never has had an easy time of it. His choice of products is severely limited, shortages of even staple items abound, and quality frequently is shabby.

Add to that the bureaucratic bungling of a centrally-planned economy, and the renowned patience of the Soviet peasant becomes sorely tried.

One recent example of the way Soviet planners manage to produce monumental goofs involved semi-automatic washing machines. First introduced in limited numbers in 1970, the concept was an instant success. So much so, consumers would rather wait for the semi-automatic machine than purchase a non-automatic.

Belatedly, it was discovered that the more modern machines' power requirements exceed that available from Soviet residential housing. Back to the washboard.

As a result of consumed dissatisfaction with the offerings on store shelves, savings of Soviet workers multiplied almost five times between 1960 and 1970. Apparently they are postponing unnecessary purchases while waiting for a time when conditions will improve.

Questions Taxpayers Ask

Q. I deducted a casualty loss on my 1971 return for damage caused to my house by a hailstorm, this year, my insurance company gave me a greater reimbursement for my loss than I had originally estimated. Is this taxable?

A. Yes, if you receive a larger reimbursement than you estimated you would recover, after you claimed a deduction for the loss, you must include in your income, for the year of recovery, the amount that exceeds the loss you deducted in your tax return. You do not recompute the tax for the year you claimed the deduction.

Q. I just took a job as a waiter. My employer tells me that I must report my tips to him each month. Is this true?

A. Yes, if you receive cash tips of $20 or more in a month while working for any one employer, you must report to that employer the total amount of those tips on or before the 10th day of the following month. Your employer needs these reports to collect the social security and income tax due on the tips. He will deduct these from your regular wages.

Q. Does the IRS automatically

impose a penalty on a taxpayer who underpays his estimated tax installment?

A. A penalty of 6 percent per year is imposed by law for underpayment of installments of estimated tax except in certain situations. The penalty does not apply if each installment is paid on time and (1) is at least 80 percent (68-2/3 percent for farmers or fishermen) of the amount due on the basis of the tax shown on the return for the taxable year, (2) is at least as much as would have been paid if based on the tax shown on your prior year's return, or (3) is based on a tax computed by using your income for last year and this year's tax rates and exemptions. For additional exceptions in unusual cases see Form 2210, Underpayment of Estimated Income Tax By Individuals, available at your local IRS office. Farmers and fishermen should use Form 2210F.

One set may be symbolized by such tickets as Stevenson-Sparkman, Roosevelt-Garner, Truman-Barkley, and Kennedy-Johnson. The Northern Democratic leader could "talk to the South," and, if he could bridge that huge contradiction, he had a chance to talk to the other diverse interests and groups as well. That contradiction, to be sure, was egregious, but it was papered over by courtliness and skill (FDR), material interest (TVA, Rural Electrification, pork barrel) and Party interest (seniority).

But beginning in 1948 the hitherto submerged problem of the Negro split the Democrats asunder. And this produced, at least nationally, a desperate situation. In 1968, the Wallace third party partly concealed its desperation; but in 1972 the electoral chickens came home to roost.

Nevertheless, the Democrats have a new and not altogether hopeless card to play. What they have in mind, as reflected in the McGovern reforms and the Miami quotas, is to hazard the bridging of an entirely new set of contradictions — this time not sectional, but ethnic, generational, and ideological.

The assumptions implicit in the procedure of the new post-New Deal Democratic Party may be spelled out as follows:

1) Not much headway can be made in the South, where the Democratic Party, or what is left of it, will be mostly black. Therefore, forget some 100-150 electoral votes.

2) But, even conceding that much, the fight is far from over. The Democrats can draw energy from new sources. There is plenty of new money around: even George McGovern demonstrated that. There is plenty of talent: the Democratic tacticians and speech writers are first rate, probably better than Nixon's. The Democrats monopolize the media flacks. The campus represents a talent pool. But there is a third card, a wild joker:

3) New energies really are loose in the society, narrow but also formidable. They are connected with the fashionable minorities, the activist women, and the post-World War II generation. I have noticed that in American society, significantly, only these groups have the egotism and aggression actually to insult someone. The rest take it lying down.

On the Presidential level, the Democrats' opportunity lies in the fact that it is hard to deny the claims of talent energy and money. But, with 1973 in mind, their handicaps remain enormous, too.

The Business World

By LAURANCE F. STUNTZ (For John Cuniff)

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard Gilbert, the new president of the U.S. Savings and Loan League, expects one of his biggest challenges will be block the threat of a commercial bank monopoly in certain consumer finance services.

If that sounds odd to you it should be remembered that savings and loan associations are not banks. Their services are limited to savings accounts and loans, mainly for housing.

Their essential purpose is to channel the savings of ordinary Americans into housing. They are the biggest home mortgage lenders in a nation of 63 per cent home ownership.

But they are beginning to balk at the restraints, which they feel could place them at a distinct disadvantage in this electronic world.

They cannot, for example, offer third-party transfer of funds. In its simplest form, a third-party transfer would be the use of a check written by you to transfer funds out of your account into that of another.

This is done 23 million times a day by holders of checking accounts, every one of which is at a commercial bank. Savings and loans cannot offer them.

Now the fund transfer system is about to become more complex, and the associations worry that, while they could live without such powers in the past, they may not be able to in the future.

The reason is that banks are developing plans to join into groups that would transfer funds electronically. Your paycheck, for example, would be deposited directly into your bank, and the bank then would pay certain bills.

Moreover, it is now generally agreed that the shopper of the future will use a plastic card with a magnetic strip that will permit the store to deduct instantly the purchase price from your account and transfer it to theirs.

If the savings and loans are excluded from such systems it could mean disaster. The added convenience of such commercial bank services would likely be more than the S&Ls could offset with their higher interest on savings.

"A monopoly wasn't granted to the banks from Mt. Sinai," said Gilbert in an interview at the S&L convention in Miami Beach.

He indicated that he and other S&L officials intend to use every legal means to prevent a monopoly of fund transfer services.

"The nation will be better served by two systems," he said. "Banks take care of commerce and industry, and we family financial centers to all serve people."

Gilbert, who is president of Citizens Savings Association, Canton, Ohio, also faces the legislative matter of converting savings and loan associations, which are mutually owned by depositors, into stock companies.

Many association leaders have proposed conversion as the answer to continued growth. It would mean that S&Ls would attract investor money in the same way as General Motors.

This conceivably would mean a windfall for existing passbook holders who, in addition to their savings accounts, would most likely have to be given stock also.

Gilbert expects an "active legislative year." Congress also is interested in tax revisions. And controls on interest rates expire June 1, and in all likelihood must be replaced, perhaps with some changes.

Can Healthy Man Lose Manhood?

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me if there is such a thing as a man losing his manhood? I hope you won't think I am stupid, but I am 59 and my husband is 69, and we have not had sexual relations for over 12 years.

When I asked our family doctor about it, he said it's possible for some men to lose their manhood at 40. Is this true? We asked a couple who have been close friends for a number of years if their sex lives had come to a halt, and they said their sex lives were better now than when they were younger. The man is 63 and the woman is 61. Are they lying?

I am in good health and so is my husband. I am no sex maniac, but I really do believe my husband could do better by me if he tried. But how can I be sure he is capable of it? I don't want to make demands he can't fulfill. Keep this confidential, please.

Forest Officials Take To The Air

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Utah forest officials say they will use airplanes to watch for Christmas tree poachers in Utah and Nevada this year.

Clynn Bishop, assistant Utah forester, said the aircraft will continue checks through Christmas Eve.

He said up to 10,000 Christmas trees, mostly pinion pines and three varieties of fir, were harvested illegally last year in Utah. It is a misdemeanor to dig up or chop down a Christmas tree without a special permit.

Garbage Firm Eyes Middletown Routes

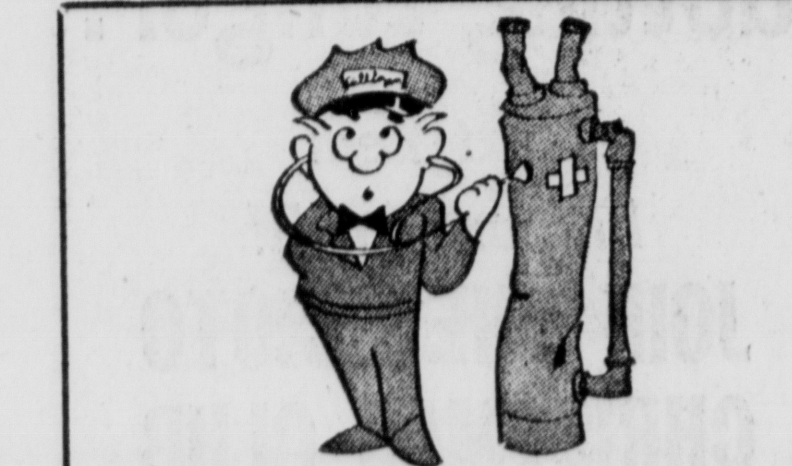

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Twenty Big M Trucking Co. employees, who will begin collecting garbage here next week, will go through the city this week to become familiar with routes and see where residents keep their trash cans.

"They'll look like trash collectors, but they won't be making any collections," Middletown administrative assistant Richard Clark said Monday.

Demand Removal Of Company's Dam

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Attorneys for Ohio filed suit Monday asking that the Newport Concrete Co. be required to remove a dam from the Little Miami River in eastern Hamilton County.

Atty. Gen. William Brown said in the suit in common pleas court that the dam is used for mining gravel and interferes with commercial and recreational functions of the river.

Thanksgiving Turkey 2 Years In Preparation

By CONNIE LARKIN
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The tough part of your Thanksgiving turkey is getting him to your friendly neighborhood store.

After that it's all gravy getting him to your festive table. "Almost two years of planning goes into the turkey you buy at the store," said Dick Staigler. "We started ordering breeding turkeys for next year's crop of Thanksgiving turkeys back in January." Staigler is general manager of the Wayne Poultry Co. of Fort Recovery, one of Ohio's largest processors of turkeys.

That means your Thanksgiving turkey, circa 1972, went into production in January, 1970, a gleam in a supermarket manager's eye.

Back in July, 1971, your turkey's parents may have arrived at Wayne as an egg, or perhaps even as a young bird, known in poultry circles as a poult.

"Then they were contracted out to various turkey farms to be grown," explained Staigler. These farmed-out turkeys, said Staigler, didn't begin turning out little gobblers for 30 weeks, sometime last February or March.

"The offspring of those turkeys are the ones that will appear on this year's Thanksgiving table," he said.

Each store Wayne serves knows about how many turkeys it will need for the annual turkey stuffing season.

"We have to know that figure at least three weeks in advance of delivery," said Staigler. "If they want the turkeys packaged in their own labels, at least two months in advance."

So, your turkey is on the way. He may be in the store right now.

Part of the trouble is that Wayne—and any other turkey grower and processor—must make allowances for disease and sudden death. Turkeys are not noted for intellect and caution.

"We normally plan on a 10 per cent fatality figure for our birds," said Staigler, "and that's out of about 3 million pounds processed a year." Then there's another bit of bother. Turkeymen love this bit—the year-round eater of turkey. Hopefully they report this type of turkey fancier in increasing numbers.

"The high cost of red meats, such as beef, make lower-priced turkey an attractive buy," said Dr. Sherman Touchburn of Wooster, an Ohio State University researcher.

"This coupled with the fact that turkey is being sold in more variations, such as in the ground form, puts it in demand."

You may not go for turkey burgers, but turkey processors are in there trying.

The Pilgrim Fathers wouldn't now today's turkey. He's "colored turkeys," said Dr. Touchburn, "are rapidly disappearing and now are being used for collecting and contest purposes."

Big item: the white feathers don't show up in the skin as much.

What with all this turkey eating, Ohio produces about 10 million of the 120 million turkeys raised each year in the nation.

Of course, if all this planning and processing turns you off, go out and shoot your turkey.

"Wild turkeys are on the increase to such a degree," said Dr. Touchburn, "that a hunting season is opened on them in states such as Ohio."

Cleveland Gains Family Migration

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A study of migration patterns of families in Cuyahoga County shows that 601 families moved back into Cleveland from the suburbs last year.

Samplings of movements of families, taken from address changes at the U. S. Post Office here, show that 325 families moved from the eastern suburbs back to the city's East Side and 276 families relocated in the West Side from the western suburbs.

Heavy Snow Hits Southern Plains Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Heavy snow hit the south-central Plains today, and freezing rain iced areas surrounding the snow.

The nation was mostly cloudy and cool or cold. The exception was Florida, where temperatures were in the 70s.

Gage, Okla., residents slogged through 5 inches of snow; Dalhart, Tex., was blanketed by 4 inches, and Pueblo, Colo., took on 3 inches. Heavy-snow warnings were in effect throughout the region.

Freezing rain glazed parts of Texas, Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska. Snow flurries dusted the northern Great Lakes.

Fair weather predominated on the Atlantic Coast, in the Plateau and intermountain regions in the West and on the Pacific Coast.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 12 at Butte, Mont., to 75 at Key West, Fla.

Wedding Vows Exchanged By Miss Dennis, Mr. Cox

MR. AND MRS. MARK ALAN COX

Marriage vows were exchanged Nov. 4 by Miss Vicki Gene Dennis and Mr. Mark Alan Cox.

The evening double-ring ceremony united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eugene Dennis, Route 3, Mt. Sterling and son of Mr. Robert Eugene Cox, Clarksburg, with Rev. C. Edward Linville officiating.

The Williamsport United Methodist Church was the setting for the ceremony and was decorated with floral arrangements and candles for the occasion.

A 7-branch candelabra tied with a lavender bow stood with lavender, dark purple and white mums and daisies before the altar, where the bride was escorted by her father.

Miss Nancy Keller, organist, provided a program of nuptial music for the ceremony.

For her wedding, the bride selected a gown of satin-faced rayon organza designed with a slightly scoop-necked bodice trimmed in cotton Venice lace and full shepherdess sleeves with wide cuffs trimmed in matching lace. Her only jewelry was a petite bell-shaped diamond necklace, a gift of the groom, and she carried a floral cascade of varied shades of purple gathered with pink and white rosebuds, baby's breath and pink and purple carnations highlighted with greenery and tied with lavender and pink ribbon streamers.

Miss Sandy Dennis served her sister as maid of honor, wearing a floor length gown of lavender velvet and crepe. The empire bodice and full sleeves of lavender crepe joined with lace to a dark purple velvet skirt. It featured a high neckline, also decorated with lace.

The bridesmaids — Mrs. Roxann Blue, sister of the bride, Miss Christy Hawker and Miss Janne Reynolds were attired in matching gowns and all carried bouquets of purple baby mums and pink roses tied with long pink velvet ribbons.

Junior attendants were the flower girl and ring bearer, Miss Misty Hendrickson and Master Phil Purperro.

Mr. Tim Dewey stood as best man for his friend and Mr. Craig Liston, Mr. Joe Lehmer, and Mr. Clark McFarland III, were ushers.

Mrs. Dennis was attired in a blue satin long-sleeved A-line gown and wore a corsage of white carnations and pink rosebuds.

The reception held in the church social hall was hosted by Mrs. Brenda Rittinger, Miss Carla Liston and Miss Connie Rogers. The bride's cake centered the refreshment table, its three tiers decorated with pastel flowers and its base surrounded with fresh carnations, mums and roses in pink and purple shades. Matching color candles stood to either side surrounded by pearl ropes.

The new Mrs. Cox was graduated from Westfall High School in 1971 and is employed as an accounting clerk for Ohio State Life Insurance Co. Her husband graduated in 1971 from Adena High School and is serving with the U.S. Army in Hardheim, Germany as a military policeman.

Out of town guests at the wedding were from Ravenswood and Parkersburg, W. Va., Dayton, Columbus, Chillicothe and Wilmington.

Brownie Troop Investiture Held Nov. 14

Brownie Troop 518 of Nicholas Drive School had its investiture ceremony November 14. The troop invited mothers of members as guests.

The girls began their program with the Pledge of Allegiance, followed by the singing of "America". They recited the welcome to their guests and sang the "Brownie Smile Song" and "Make New Friends."

Mrs. Howard Wheaton, leader, and Mrs. Eugene Haist, assistant leader, then pinned the girls. As each girl was pinned, she was given a picture of herself in full uniform as a memento of her investiture.

The new Brownies are Cynthia Cook, Debra Consoletti, Diane Winter, Laura Theis, Amy Hovermale, Vanessa Armstrong, Tina Haist, Susan Wheaton and Elisa Forsini.

After the pinning ceremony, the girls recited their Brownie Promise and Brownie B's. They finished their program with "Whenever You Make A Promise," "The Goodnight Song" and "When Day Is Done." To complete their program, they served punch and cookies to their guests.

GOP Club Celebrate With Dinner

A festive dinner, in honor of the Thanksgiving holiday, was enjoyed by members of the GOP Boosters Friday.

A traditional turkey dinner was served by the hostess, Mrs. Roger Jury, 514 N. Court St., at a beautifully decorated table.

The business meeting was opened with Mrs. John Steinhauer leading the pledge to the American flag, followed by group singing of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Miss Lucille Dumm led the discussion on the topic "Re-election of President Nixon." She inserted her thoughts that the landslide victory garnered by Nixon is the beginning of a new togetherness for America since it included the votes of so many of the nation's people who must have felt they wanted to hold on to what they believe this country really stands for.

It was a vote, she commented, not to hand it over to others who would tear it apart. "The victory lets the President know we all have confidence," Miss Dumm added, "and should give him a great boost."

Games followed with prizes going to Miss Dumm, Mrs. Wayne Stonerock, Mrs. Steinhauer, Mrs. Jury and Mrs. Roy Dumm.

GOP Boosters will hold its Christmas party Dec. 22 at 6:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. John Steinhauer, 1028 Georgia Road.

Sanitary Landfill Faces State Charges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Rockside Hideaway Sanitary Landfill, Inc., a Garfield Heights waste dump, was accused by Atty. Gen. William Brown Monday of polluting state waters and causing a nuisance to neighboring residents.

A $15,000 suit filed by Brown said the company cut into an embankment separating the dump from a residential area, diverting underground water courses.

Holiday Spirit Is FGC Offer

"Stop And Catch The Holiday Spirit" is the attractive invitation of the Fairfield Garden Club to its annual Christmas show in Lancaster.

The idea promoted by the garden group is to share holiday decorating ideas and instructional demonstrations at the show to be held Nov. 30 beginning 11:30 a.m. at the First United Methodist Church, Wheeling and High Sts., in Lancaster.

"Stop And Catch The Holiday Spirit" will be a catered buffet, followed by demonstration of Christmas ideas by a panel of Fairfield Garden Club designers.

In addition to the Christmas demonstrations will be displays of Christmas arrangements, including door pieces, centerpieces and the like. Guests, by invitation, will have an outstanding display of ceramics and paintings.

Republicans Set Luncheon

A Gala Victory Luncheon is planned Monday noon by the Pickaway County Women's Republican Club.

The carry-in luncheon will be in the social rooms of the Calvary United Methodist Church, 427 S. Washington St. beginning at noon.

Special speaker will be Mrs. H. O. Caldwell, who will present a travelogue of some of the exotic cities and countries she has visited.

Friends and guests are cordially invited to attend.

Hostesses for the carry-in are Mrs. Mildred Hatfield, Mrs. Sara M. Dresbach and Mrs. Merley Congrove.

New Projects Are Adopted By League

Two additional projects were added to those sponsored by the Circleville Child Conservation League at the club's meeting recently, hosted by Mrs. Walter Yamarick.

A pre school scholarship was adopted. This will be given to a child recommended by the county Children's Services staff. Assistance will be given to Sertoma in acquiring new or used tap shoes for the girls at the Girls' Home who are taking dancing lessons.

The program for the afternoon was Mrs. Roger Southward, Circleville's school psychologist.

Next league meeting will be the annual Christmas Tea, Dec. 5, hosted by club president, Mrs. John Eshelman Jr. Members may bring a guest and are reminded not to forget items for the Christmas basket.

Reservations should be called in to any member of the tea committee by Dec. 1, who are: Mrs. Roger May, chairman; Mrs. John Dunlap III, Mrs. Asa Elsea and Mrs. David Smith. There will be a musical program provided by Gary Dean, director of music at Circleville High School and one of his musical groups.

Wedding Vows Exchanged By Miss Dennis, Mr. Cox

MR. AND MRS. MARK ALAN COX

Marriage vows were exchanged Nov. 4 by Miss Vicki Gene Dennis and Mr. Mark Alan Cox.

The evening double-ring ceremony united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eugene Dennis, Route 3, Mt. Sterling and son of Mr. Robert Eugene Cox, Clarkburg, with Rev. C. Edward Linville officiating.

The Williamsport United Methodist Church was the setting for the ceremony and was decorated with floral arrangements and candles for the occasion.

A 7-branch candelabra tied with a lavender bow stood with lavender, dark purple and white mums and daisies before the altar, where the bride was escorted by her father.

Miss Nancy Keller, organist, provided a program of nuptial music for the ceremony.

For her wedding, the bride selected a gown of satin-faced rayon organza designed with a slightly scooped, puffed bodice trimmed in cotton Venice lace and full shepherdess sleeves with wide cuffs trimmed in matching lace. Her only jewelry was a petite bell-shaped diamond necklace, a gift of the groom, and she carried a floral cascade of varied shades of purple gathered with pink and white rosebuds, baby's breath and pink and purple carnations highlighted with greenery and tied with lavender and pink ribbon streamers.

Miss Sandy Dennis served her sister as maid of honor, wearing a floor length gown of lavender velvet and crepe. The empire bodice and full sleeves of lavender crepe joined with lace to a dark purple velvet skirt. It featured a high neckline, also decorated with lace.

The bridesmaids — Mrs. Roxann Blue, sister of the bride, Miss Christy Hawker and Miss Janne Reynolds were attired in matching gowns and all carried bouquets of purple baby mums and pink roses tied with long pink velvet ribbons.

Junior attendants were the flower girl and ring bearer, Miss Misty Hendrickson and Master Phil Purperro.

Mr. Tim Dewey stood as best man for his friend and Mr. Craig Liston, Mr. Joe Lahrmer, and Mr. Clark McFarland III, were ushers.

Mrs. Dennis was attired in a blue satin long-sleeved A-line gown and wore a corsage of white carnations and pink rosebuds.

The reception held in the church social hall was hosted by Mrs. Brenda Rittinger, Miss Carla Liston and Miss Connie Rogers. The bride's cake centered the refreshment table, its three tiers decorated with pastel flowers and its base surrounded with fresh carnations, mums and roses in pink and purple shades. Matching color candles stood to either side surrounded by pearl ropes.

The new Mrs. Cox was graduated from Westfall High School in 1971 and is employed as an accounting clerk for Ohio State Life Insurance Co. Her husband graduated in 1971 from Adena High School and is serving with the U.S. Army in Hardheim, Germany as a military policeman.

Out of town guests at the wedding were from Ravenswood and Parkersburg, W. Va., Dayton, Columbus, Chillicothe and Wilmington.

Brownie Troop Investiture Held Nov. 14

Brownie Troop 518 of Nicholas Drive School had its investiture ceremony November 14. The troop invited mothers of members as guests.

The girls began their program with the Pledge of Allegiance, followed by the singing of "America". They recited the welcome to their guests and sang the "Brownie Smile Song" and "Make New Friends."

Mrs. Howard Wheaton, leader, and Mrs. Eugene Haist, assistant leader, then pinned the girls. As each girl was pinned, she was given a picture of herself in full uniform as a memento of her investiture.

The new Brownies are Cynthia Cook, Debra Consoletti, Diane Winter, Laura Theis, Amy Hovermale, Vanessa Armstrong, Tina Haist, Susan Wheaton and Elisa Forsini.

After the pinning ceremony, the girls recited their Brownie Promise and Brownie B's. The finished their program with "Whenever You Make A Promise," "The Goodnight Song" and "When Day Is Done." To complete their program, they served punch and cookies to their guests.

GOP Club Celebrate With Dinner

A festive dinner, in honor of the Thanksgiving holiday, was enjoyed by members of the GOP Boosters Friday.

A traditional turkey dinner was served by the hostess, Mrs. Roger Jury, 514 N. Court St., at a beautifully decorated table.

The business meeting was opened with Mrs. John Steinhauser leading the pledge to the American flag, followed by group singing of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Miss Lucille Dumm led the discussion on the topic "Re-election of President Nixon." She inserted her thoughts that the landslide victory garnered by Nixon is the beginning of a new togetherness for America since it included the votes of so many of the nation's people who must have felt they wanted to hold on to what they believe this country really stands for. It was a vote, she commented, not to hand it over to others who would tear it apart.

"The victory lets the President know we all have confidence," Miss Dumm added, "and should give him a great boost."

Games followed with prizes going to Miss Dumm, Mrs. Wayne Stonerock, Mrs. Steinhauser, Mrs. Jury and Mrs. Roy Dumm.

GOP Boosters will hold its Christmas party Dec. 22 at 6:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. John Steinhauser, 1028 Georgia Road.

Sanitary Landfill Faces State Charges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Rockside Hideaway Sanitary Landfill, Inc., a Garfield Heights waste dump, was accused by Atty. Gen. William Brown Monday of polluting state waters and causing a nuisance to neighboring residents.

A $15,000 suit filed by Brown said the company cut into an embankment separating the dump from a residential area, diverting underground water courses.

Holiday Spirit Is FGC Offer

"Stop And Catch The Holiday Spirit" is the attractive invitation of the Fairfield Garden Club to its annual Christmas show in Lancaster.

The idea promoted by the garden group is to share holiday decorating ideas and instructional demonstrations at the show to be held Nov. 30 beginning 11:30 a.m. at the First United Methodist Church, Wheeling and High Sts., in Lancaster.

"Stop And Catch The Holiday Spirit" will be a catered buffet, followed by demonstration of Christmas ideas by a panel of Fairfield Garden Club designers.

In addition to the Christmas demonstrations will be displays of Christmas arrangements, including door pieces, centerpieces and the like. Guests, by invitation, will have an outstanding display of ceramics and paintings.

Republicans Set Luncheon

A Gala Victory Luncheon is planned Monday noon by the Pickaway County Women's Republican Club.

The carry-in luncheon will be in the social rooms of the Calvary United Methodist Church, 427 S. Washington St. beginning at noon.

Special speaker will be Mrs. H. O. Caldwell, who will present a travelogue of some of the exotic cities and countries she has visited.

Friends and guests are cordially invited to attend.

Hostesses for the carry-in are Mrs. Mildred Hatfield, Mrs. Sara M. Dresbach and Mrs. Merley Congrove.

New Projects Are Adopted By League

Two additional projects were added to those sponsored by the Circleville Child Conservation League at the club's meeting recently, hosted by Mrs. Walter Yamarick.

A pre-school scholarship was adopted. This will be given to a child recommended by the county Children's Services staff. Assistance will be given to Sertoma in acquiring new or used tap shoes for the girls at the Girls' Home who are taking dancing lessons.

The program for the afternoon was Mrs. Roger Southward, Circleville's school psychologist.

Next league meeting will be the annual Christmas Tea, Dec. 5, hosted by club president, Mrs. John Eshelman Jr. Members may bring a guest and are reminded not to forget items for the Christmas basket. Reservations should be called in to any member of the tea committee by Dec. 1, who are: Mrs. Roger May, chairman, Mrs. John Dunlap III, Mrs. Asa Elsea and Mrs. David Smith.

There will be a musical program provided by Gary

Bob-Tailed Mountain Lion To Be Turned Loose By Zoo

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The mother of an 8-week-old mountain lion might have done the kitten — and her entire species — a favor when she bit off the youngster's tail.

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Following is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:

A storm developing this morning along the western Gulf Coast will move east tonight, possibly spreading snow into southern Ohio. The bulk of the storm is expected to stay south of the state and snowfall should be light, and may miss Ohio completely.

A weak high pressure ridge in the wake of the storm will bring hope of pleasant weather for Thanksgiving before a new storm front approaches from the northwest Friday.

Skies early today were mostly cloudy. The cloud cover was expected to remain through today, except for intervals of sunshine in southern counties.

Temperatures were forecast this afternoon in the 30s. Temperatures at dawn ranged from 25 at Cincinnati into the low 30s elsewhere across the state.

Occasional snow flurries were reported in northern counties overnight. The only measurable amount was .07-inch in the Cleveland area.

FORECASTS

OHIO — Cloudy tonight and Wednesday with a chance of snow south. Lows tonight in the mid to upper 20s. Highs Wednesday in the 30s.

LAKE SHORE, NORTHWEST INLAND, NORTHEAST INLAND — Cloudy tonight and Wednesday. Lows tonight in the mid to upper 20s. Highs Wednesday in the 30s.

WEST CENTRAL, CENTRAL EAST CENTRAL, SOUTHWEST, SOUTHEAST — Cloudy with a chance of snow tonight and Wednesday. Lows tonight in the upper 20s and low 30s. Highs Wednesday in the 30s.

Because the bob-tailed kitten is not considered a fitting specimen for zoo display, wildlife officials say it will be trained to hunt and will be returned to California's mountains.

"To our knowledge, it will be the first domestically born mountain lion to be released," the San Francisco Zoo zoologist Paul Maxwell said Monday.

"If the lion population is as critical as we think, the fact that we can breed them in captivity and release them assures continuation of the species."

The pilot project depends upon how well Sioux, a male mountain lion born Sept. 26 at the Sacramento Zoo, can learn the ways and wiles of the estimated 600 lions now roaming wild in the state.

When the lion is released a year or more from now, he will be fitted with a radio transmitter. Through it, biologists plan to keep track of him and his adjustment to wild life, in hopes of learning more about the elusive cats.

Meanwhile, Sioux, 5½ pounds and cuddly, is leading a house cat's life at the home of Gary Bogue, curator of the Alexander Lindsay Junior Museum in Walnut Creek.

Boque, who is working with Maxwell and California Fish and Game Department officials, said the kitten is getting

Expect 580-680 Holiday Deaths

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council has estimated that between 580 and 680 persons may be killed in traffic accidents over the long Thanksgiving holiday weekend.

The council said Sunday that the estimate covers the period from 6 p.m. Wednesday to midnight Sunday, a 102-hour period considered four days.

Between 26,000 and 30,000 persons may suffer disabling injuries during the holiday period, the council estimated.

The 1971 traffic death count during Thanksgiving weekend was 607.

The largest species of armadillo measures three feet, not counting its tail, and weighs nearly 100 pounds.

Ohio University-Lancaster will introduce babysitting services on a part-time basis beginning winter quarter for enrolled students.

Since more and more women with small children are attending school, a definite need for this service has materialized. It is hoped that in addition to assisting mothers already attending classes, a babysitting service will also be of interest to women who might wish to attend the Lancaster campus.

Details were not yet finalized, but the service is planned to begin Jan. 4, the beginning of winter quarter. Anyone interested in having this service is asked to call Jerry Neff at 654-6711, ext. 28, for further information.

Queen, Consort Celebrate 25th Wedding Anniversary

LONDON (AP) — Church bells rang and flags were out up and down Britain as crowds flocked to London Monday to help Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary.

The silver jubilee was planned as a mixture of pomp, pageantry and informality, with the royal couple taking their first walkabout among the ordinary people of England.

The day's activities got under way with the 46-year-old monarch and her 51-year-old husband opening hundreds of congratulatory messages which flooded Buckingham Palace from throughout the world.

Their first public appearance was a drive to Westminster Abbey — where they were married in 1947 — for a thanksgiving service.

Special guests were to be about 100 other couples who were married on the same day as the Queen and Philip. Children were given a school holiday, and nationwide television coverage of the festivities was scheduled.

Four state carriages escorted by Household Cavalry were to take the royal family from the Palace to the Guildhall in the City of London for a luncheon in one of the city's most tradition-laden areas. Afterward the queen and her husband were to stroll informally along a half mile of elevated walkways in a new development.

The Queen introduced the royal walkabout on a tour of Australia, but not until today has she moved so informally among the people of England.

Prince Charles and Princess Anne invited several hundred friends of the royal family to Buckingham Palace tonight for a dinner dance in honor of their parents.

The palace staff was reinforced for the party by 12 catering students at a technical school in Kent, but four of them were barred when it was learned they took part in a campus demonstration. They were in a group that walked out of classes two weeks ago in protest against a school ban on girls wearing pants and boys wearing long hair.

Braves Trip Vikings In Torrid Cage Battle

TWO MORE — Tim Justice (25) nets another bucket for the Logan Elm Braves as Jim Logsdon (44) of the Vikings

By BILL McGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

Tom Sykes and Tim Justice combined to pepper the nets for 56 points and lead Logan Elm to a come from behind 88-80 decision over Teays Valley Monday night in a real thriller at the Vikings' gym.

Sykes poured 12 fields goals and six free throws through the nets while Justice ripped the cords with 10 from the floor and six from the charity stripe.

The deadly duo offset a fine shooting performance by Jim Logsdon, Craig Pontius and Jeff Anderson of the Vikings who combined for a total of 63 points in the contest.

Logsdon ripped the fibers for 12 from the hardwood and one from the foul line. Pontius swished the hoop with 10 from the floor while Anderson connected eight times from the field and twice from the free throw line.

PLAYING before a jam packed house, the two teams put on a battle that was tighter than a three dollar pair of shoes.

The Vikings held a 28-22 lead at the end of the first quarter, were on top 48-43 at halftime and held a narrow one point 63-63 margin at the conclusion of the third canto.

Still holding a narrow 74-73 lead with 4:35 to go in a torrid fourth quarter, the Vikings saw the Braves pull ahead when Jay Justice hit from the corner to put the Braves on top 75-74 with 4:24 remaining in the game. Logan Elm never trailed again in the game.

TEAYS VALLEY
Pontius, 10-0-20; Collins, 1-0-2; Lambert, 4-1-9; Sabine, 2-2-6; Logsdon, 12-1-25; Anderson, 8-2-18. Totals 37-6-80.

Score by Qtrs. 1 2 3 Totals
Teays Valley 28 48 63 — 80
Logan Elm 22 43 63 — 88

Officials: Jim Clark, Charles Lemaster.
Reserve Game: Teays Valley 28, Logan Elm 25.

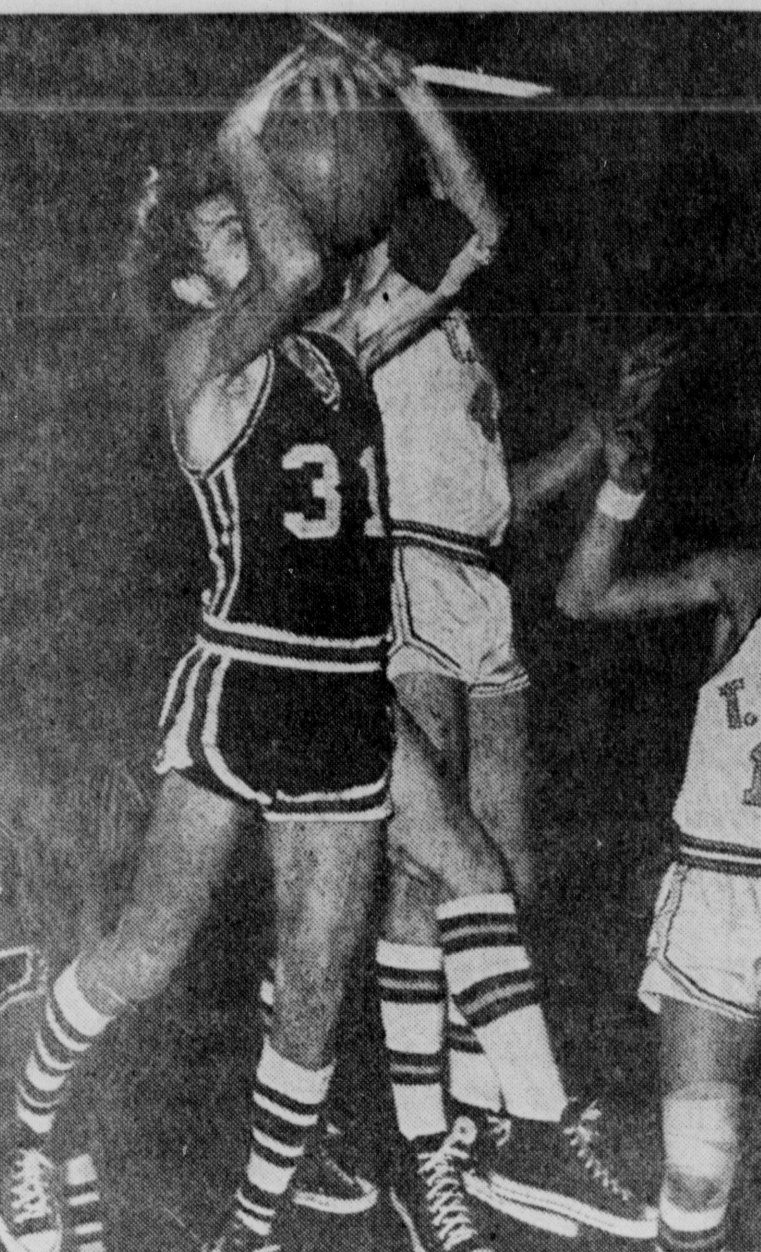

Sykes added a foul and Jay Justice connected on a shot from the side and tapped in a missed shot to send the Braves to an 80-74 margin before Terry Lambert hit from the floor for the Vikings with less than three minutes to play.

Marty Eveland and Sykes connected for baskets and Tim Justice poured in a pair of free throws to run the count to 86-76 with 1:15 left in the game.

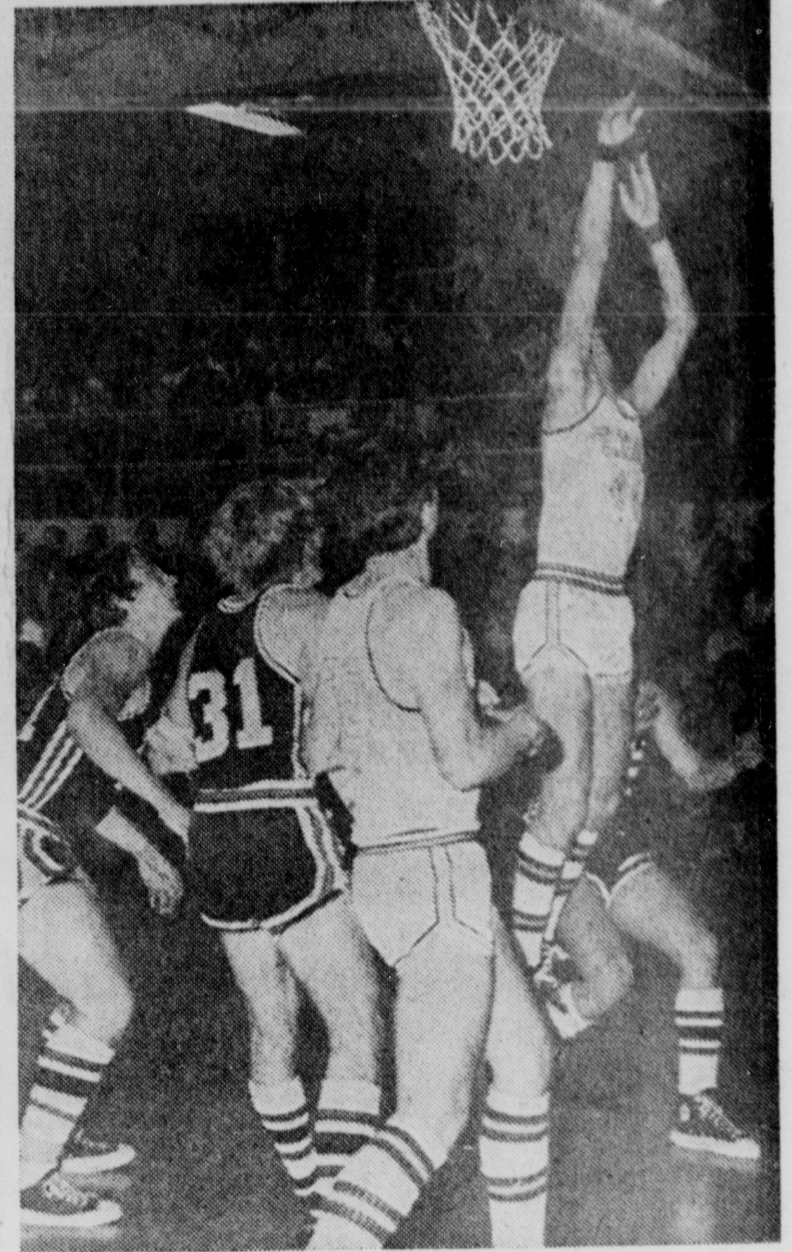

Jim Logsdon cut the lead to 86-78 but Steve Sargent countered with a layup to again give the Braves a 10 point lead with 50 seconds left to play.

PONTIUS put the final two points on the board for the Vikings at the final buzzer.

IT'S MINE — Logan Elm's Tom Sykes (31) gains a precious rebound in a battle on the boards with an unidentified Viking. Jay Justice (23) watches the action. Sykes tallied 30 points

UP AND IN — Teays Valley's Jim Logsdon (44) gets high in the air to send the ball through the nets and put another two points on the board for the Vikings. Terry Collins (20) of the Vikings moves into position along with Doug Marshall (41) and Tom Sykes (31) of the Braves. Logsdon led his team with 25 points and 13 rebounds.

Colt's Field Goal Recovery Fatal To Bengals Chance

By JOHN W. CHACE
Associated Press Writer
CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — How does a football player feel after one of his plays of the year backfires?

"Heartbroken," Cincinnati Bengals tackle Ron Carpenter answered with a frown. "After making a play the way you're taught to do it, it is really unfortunate."

Carpenter, a veteran starting for the first time in recent weeks, blocked a field goal attempt late in Cincinnati's game against Baltimore here Sunday, but the Colts recovered the ball on the play, made a first down and eventually scored a touchdown. The Colts won 20-19.

"Not that many field goals are blocked in pro football, and it is even more unusual when the kicking team recovers the ball," Carpenter said. "Percentage-wise, the defensive team would recover the ball."

The Colts recovered a Cincinnati fumble on the Bengals 34-yard line, but were stopped on a fourth down situation at the Cincinnati 25. Jim O'Brien attempted a 33-yard field goal but Carpenter broke through to deflect the ball.

Ted Hendricks, on Baltimore's offensive line, caught the ball in mid-air on the Baltimore side of the line, then picked up about three yards for a first down. The Colts scored a touchdown four plays later and took a 17-13 lead.

"It is quite a blow when you hold a team after they have been given the ball deep in your own territory," said Carpenter who was credited with three unassisted tackles and two assists. On two of the tackles, he nailed the quarterback behind the line of scrimmage.

Cincinnati Coach Paul Brown called the play "one of those fluke things. You won't see that happen again in 10 years. But it happened. A lot of things seem to be happening to us lately."

Braves Trip Vikings In Torrid Cage Battle

TWO MORE — Tim Justice (25) nets another bucket for the Logan Elm Braves as Jim Logsdon (44) of the Vikings

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor
Tom Sykes and Tim Justice combined to pepper the nets for 56 points and lead Logan Elm to a come from behind 88-80 decision over Teays Valley Monday night in a real thriller at the Vikings' gym.

Sykes poured 12 field goals and six free throws through the nets while Justice ripped the cords with 10 from the floor and six from the charity stripe. The deadly duo offset a fine shooting performance by Jim Logsdon, Craig Pontius and Jeff Anderson of the Vikings who combined for a total of 63 points in the contest.

Logsdon ripped the fibers for 12 from the hardwood and one from the foul line. Pontius swished the hoop with 10 from the floor while Anderson connected eight times from the field and twice from the free throw line.

PLAYING before a jam packed house, the two teams put on a battle that was tighter than a three dollar pair of shoes.

The Vikings held a 28-22 lead at the end of the first quarter, were on top 48-43 at halftime and held a narrow one point 63-63 margin at the conclusion of the third canto.

Still holding a narrow 74-73 lead with 4:35 to go in a torrid fourth quarter, the Vikings saw the Braves pull ahead when Jay Justice hit from the corner to put the Braves on top 75-74 with 4:24 remaining in the game. Logan Elm never trailed again in the game.

Sykes added a foul and Jay Justice connected on a shot from the side and tapped in a missed shot to send the Braves to an 80-74 margin before Terry Lambert hit from the floor for the Vikings with less than three minutes to play.

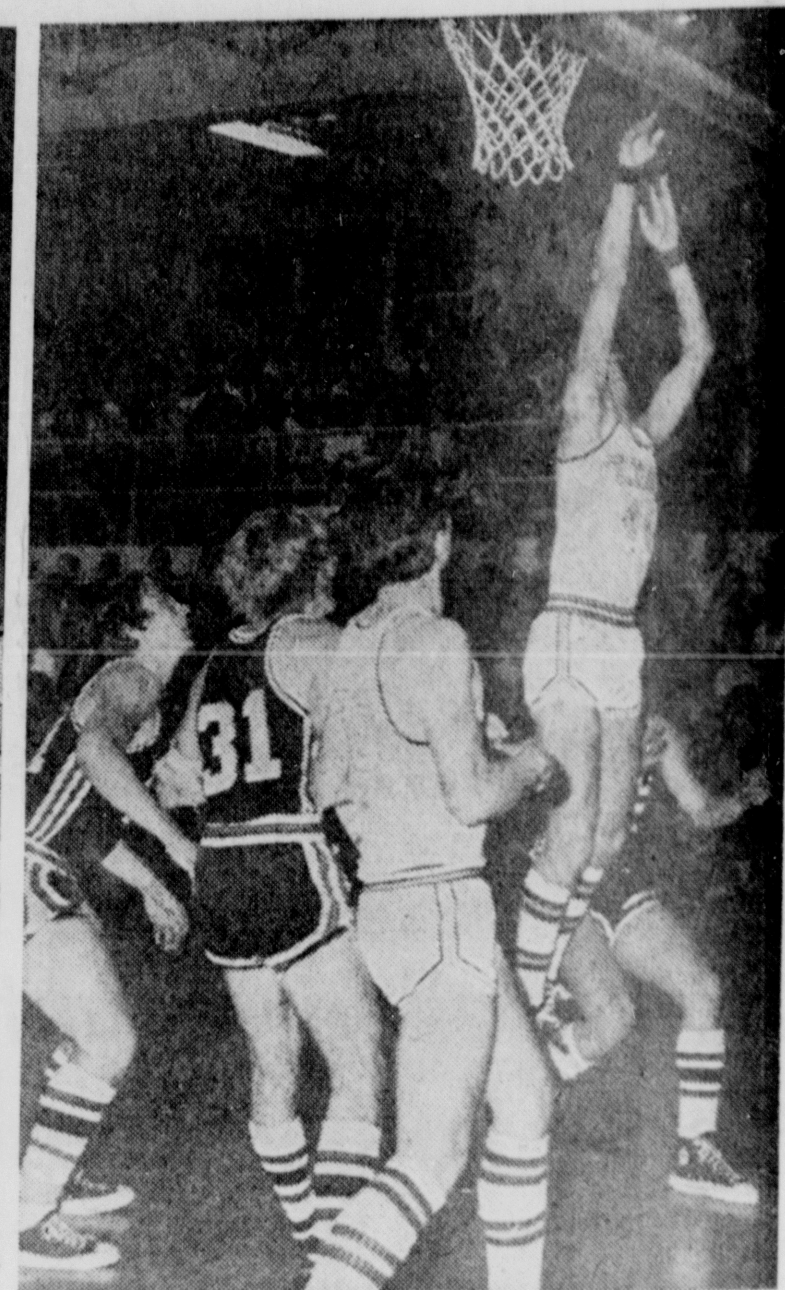

Marty Eveland and Sykes connected for baskets and Tim Justice poured in a pair of free throws to run the count to 86-76 with 1:15 left in the game.

Jim Logsdon cut the lead to 86-78 but Steve Sargent countered with a layup to again give the Braves a 10 point lead with 50 seconds left to play.

PONTIUS put the final two points on the board for the Vikings at the final buzzer. The game had been heralded (Continued on Page 11)

IT'S MINE — Logan Elm's Tom Sykes (31) gains a precious rebound in a battle on the boards with an unidentified Viking. Jay Justice (23) watches the action. Sykes tallied 30 points to lead all scorers in the contest and paced the rebounders with 14 grabs. The Braves downed the Vikings 88-80 in a torrid cage clash Monday night at Teays Valley.

UP AND IN — Teays Valley's Jim Logsdon (44) gets high in the air to send the ball through the nets and put another two points on the board for the Vikings. Terry Collins (20) of the Vikings moves into position along with Doug Marshall (41) and Tom Sykes (31) of the Braves. Logsdon led his team with 25 points and 13 rebounds.

Colt's Field Goal Recovery Fatal To Bengals Chance

By JOHN W. CHACE
Associated Press Writer
CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — How does a football player feel after one of his plays of the year backfires?

"Heartbroken," Cincinnati Bengals tackle Ron Carpenter answered with a frown. "After making a play the way you're taught to do it, it is really unfortunate."

Carpenter, a veteran starting for the first time in recent weeks, blocked a field goal attempt late in Cincinnati's game against Baltimore here Sunday, but the Colts recovered the ball on the play, made a first down and eventually scored a touchdown. The Colts won 20-19.

Southern Cal Keeps Position Atop Rankings

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON Associated Press Sports Writer

Southern California's unbeaten Trojans maintained their runaway lead over Alabama in The Associated Press college football ratings today while Auburn replaced Notre Dame for the only change in the Top Ten.

Following Saturday's impressive 24-7 drubbing of 14th-ranked UCLA that gave them the Pacific-8 championship and a berth in the Rose Bowl, the Trojans pulled down 44 first-place votes and 988 of a possible 1,000 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Alabama and Michigan, the only other unbeaten teams in the country, continued to run 2-3. The second-ranked Crimson Tide blasted Virginia Tech 52-13 to nail down a Cotton Bowl invitation and received five first-place ballots and 874 points.

Michigan used a field goal with 64 seconds left to turn back Purdue 9-6. The Wolverines, who need only a win or tie against ninth-ranked Ohio State this weekend to capture the Big Ten crown and the other Rose Bowl berth, received the remaining first-place vote and 744 points.

The 4-5-6-7-8-9 positions were retained by Oklahoma, Nebraska, Penn State, Texas, Louisiana State and Ohio State but Auburn inched up from 11th to 10th by trouncing Georgia 27-10 while Notre Dame slid from 10th to 11th after barely holding off Miami, Fla., 20-17.

Oklahoma whipped Kansas 31-7, Nebraska buried Kansas State 59-7, Penn State out-slugged Boston College 45-26, Texas blanked Texas Christian 27-0, LSU downed Mississippi State 28-14 and Ohio State beat Northwestern 27-14.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mike Gayles, Cincinnati Princeton's explosive tailback Monday was named The Associated Press Ohio Southwestern District Class AAA high school back of the year.

A district panel of sports writers also tapped Kettering Fairmont East's Doug Schmidt for district coach of the year and Troy end-linebacker Bill Widden as area lineman of the year in Class AAA.

Schmidt guided Fairmont East to a 9-1 record in his fourth season after 2-8, 4-6 and 7-3 years.

Gayles, a swift senior, has piled up nearly 2,000 rushing yards this season going into Princeton's Class AAA state title game with Warren Western Reserve Saturday night.

Widden, a 6-foot-2, 180-pound senior, led Troy's tackles and doubled as an outstanding offensive end.

Jerry Daugherty, led Cincinnati Reading to a 10-0 regular season record, was named the Southwestern Class AA coach of the year.

Bill Dallas, of St. Paris Graham, the Class AA area back of the year, is a triple threat. He plays quarterback, intercepted 19 career passes as a deep defensive back and also kicks field goals. Gary Campbell of Cincinnati Harrison was the Class AA lineman of the year.

Co-coaches of the year in Class A were John Davis of Xenia Wilson and Jim Villinger of Cedarville.

Davis led Wilson to a 9-0 season after his team finished 1-9 and 2-8 the last two years. Villinger coached a 9-0 squad at Cedarville for the school's first unbeaten campaign.

Mike Klapheke, a junior who led Middletown Fenwick into the playoffs, was the Southwestern Class A back of the year and Steve Liddy, a 6-3,

Gas
is precious, pure energy.
Use it wisely.

Because natural gas has always been so inexpensive, there has never been a great urge to conserve it. Until now.

Right now, there's just not enough natural gas to supply all the new demands for this cleanest-burning fuel. Of course, as a gas customer, you don't have to worry about getting the gas you need for the appliances now in your home . . . or their replacements. But the shortage of natural gas, indeed, the shortage of all clean-burning fuels, is becoming a grave threat to our community's economic growth. More clean-burning gas is desperately needed. Not only to stimulate economic growth and provide more jobs, but simply to maintain current requirements. A healthy economy needs natural gas. And a healthy environment needs natural gas. Use gas wisely in your home and business. It's too valuable to waste. And the gas you save, together with the new gas Columbia is working hard to develop, can help ease the gas shortage. Write to Columbia Gas for the free booklet: "30 Ways to Save."

Gas is precious, pure energy . . . use it wisely.

Redskins Smash Falcons For 24-13 NFL Victory

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — "Three cheers for the Redskins," sang the husky-voiced Washington football team. "Three cheers for the Redskins . . . rah, rah, rah."

These are grown men, mind you. "Hooray for Pat. Hooray for Pat Fischer," continued the off-key locker room chorus. "Hooray for Alvin. Hooray for Alvin Haymond. Rah, rah, rah."

The Redskins are the world's oldest, largest, highest-paid Boy Scouts. George Allen is as much their scoutmaster as the coach of the National Football League powerhouse.

After a victory, Allen passes out game footballs like so many merit badges. Monday night was Fischer's turn for gutty defense that got him a black eye and Haymond's turn for nifty kick returning.

"We sing because we're happy," said Allen. "It was a big win for us. The pressure's now on the Dallas Cowboys for Thursday's game. We'll just sit back and watch what happens."

Washington had just smacked over the Atlanta Falcons 24-13 for their seventh straight, the longest streak of Redskin victories since 1942 when D.C. had its last world champion.

Billy Kilmer hit 7-for-7 in the third quarter, topping an 89-yard march with an 18-yard touchdown pass to Larry Brown and later hitting tight end Jerry Smith on a 12-yard score.

A 10-7 Falcon halftime lead vanished amid the Kilmer barrage that put Washington into 21-10 command. Bill Bell kicked a fourth-period field goal and Curt Knight matched it with a 37-yarder that drew a standing ovation.

Knight, you see, had blown six straight field goal attempts and had been showered with boos for two earlier goofs.

Kilmer, rushed by 250-pound Claude Humphrey, threw an interception in the first quarter that Ken Reaves returned eight yards to the Redskins' 44.

Fisk Unanimous AL Rookie Choice

KEENE, N.H. (AP) — Carlton "Pudge" Fisk, the Boston Red Sox' catcher who started the 1972 baseball season as a third stringer, is the American League's Rookie of the Year—the first unanimous choice in history.

The Baseball Writers' Association of America announced Monday that Fisk had received all 24 votes by a special committee. He joined Frank Robinson and Willie McCovey, both in the National League, as the only unanimous choices since the BBWAA began picking the best first-year players in the two leagues in 1949.

Fisk, who lives in this New Hampshire city a short distance from his parents' home in Charlestown, was a runaway selection after hitting .293 with 22 homers and 61 runs batted in.

"This is a great thrill, a great honor," said Fisk, who was out of town visiting his sister, June, at Springfield College. "Now I just hope that I can keep it up and help the Red Sox win the pennant next year."

Fisk, who will be 25 just after Christmas, had brief trials with the Red Sox for two years and virtually was awarded the starting job by Manager Eddie Kaeko last winter.

However, he had problems in virtually every department in spring training, and, when the strike-delayed season finally got under way, he was rated behind Duane Josephson and Bob Montgomery.

Then Josephson was injured and Montgomery had trouble throwing anyone out on the basepaths. Fisk was put in the regular lineup and was spectacular, both with a booming bat and his rifle-like throws cutting down runners attempting to steal.

Browns Eye Next Week, Not Bowl

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The success of five straight victories and a share of first place in the Central Division of the American Football Conference with Pittsburgh hasn't changed the thinking of Cleveland Browns Coach Nick Skorich one bit.

"We're driving and pushing hard to win the Central Division," said Skorich when asked whether his thoughts had turned toward the Super Bowl. "I haven't even begun to drift in that direction. We know and the club knows that we have to get a total team effort to overcome deficiencies other clubs know we have."

"Our greatest concern right now is Buffalo (next week's opponent)," said Skorich at his weekly news conference Monday. "I have to convince the team that losing to Buffalo is as bad as losing to Pittsburgh. I have to worry about the players subconsciously relaxing."

Skorich's task is made more difficult since the clubs, both 7-3, meet in a rematch in Pittsburgh in two weeks.

as a battle between a pair of fine teams and that is exactly what it turned out to be.

Both teams made it plain that they came to play and leads disappeared faster than hot biscuits on a boarding house table.

Eveland added nine points to the Logan Elm total, Jay Justice and Joe Stump each had six, Steve Sargent and Rick Jones had four apiece while Mike Holbrook hooped three.

Lambert connected for nine points for the Vikings, Jerry Sabine added six and Terry Collins had two for the Teays Valley totals.

Both teams carried a hot hand in the fray with Logan Elm hitting 34 of 67 from the floor for 51 per cent and Teays Valley netting 37 of 78 for 47 per cent.

THE difference in the contest came at the foul line where the Braves converted 20 of 30 while the Vikings had six of nine from the charity stripe.

Teays Valley won the battle of the boards with 36 rebounds to Logan Elm's 30. Sykes took top honors in this department with 14 while Logsdon pulled down 13 for the Vikings.

In the fast paced action, Teays Valley committed 18 turnovers and the Braves misplayed the ball 15 times.

With Logsdon and Anderson setting the pace, Teays Valley jumped out to a 20-12 lead with 2:50 to go in the first quarter.

But buckets by Sykes and Tim Justice and a pair of fouls by Rick Jones knotted the count with 1:26 remaining in the canto.

Pontius and Logsdon each hooped a pair of buckets for the Vikings and Sykes nailed one to give the Vikings a 28-22 margin at the end of the stanza.

LOGSDON and Sabine were hitting the nets in the second canto for Teays Valley while Sykes and Tim Justice were countering for the Braves. Halftime score found the Vikings maintaining a 48-43 lead.

Again it was Tim Justice and Sykes finding the range for the Braves in the third frame with Logsdon and Anderson peppering the hoop for the Vikings. The Vikings were still hanging on to a 63-62 lead as the quarter concluded.

It was a seesaw battle in the fourth frame until Logan Elm broke into a 75-74 lead with 4:24 to go and the Braves never were behind again.

The Braves are now 2-0 for the season and will be at Unioto Dec. 1.

Teays Valley is now 0-1 and will travel to Franklin Heights Friday.

The Vikings reserve squad gained a measure of revenge by downing the Logan Elm junior varsity 28-25.

THE count was tied 8-8 at the end of the first quarter, Logan Elm held a narrow 16-14 lead at halftime and were holding a 20-19 margin at the end of the third canto.

Kevin Pettibone led the Vikings with 12 tallies and Chuck Glitt added eight. Derek Morris and Mitch Martin both hooped eight to pace the Braves.

Big Ten Players Receive Honors

CHICAGO (AP) — Minnesota's Steve Neils, whose 36-yard touchdown run with an intercepted lateral helped the Gopher-unset Michigan State, was named the Big Ten's Defensive Player of the Week today by the Associated Press.

The AP Monday named a pair of fullbacks, Champ Henson of Ohio State and John King of Minnesota, to share recognition as Big Ten player of The Week on Offense.

Neither Reese, nor passenger Roy Alley, 27, Ashville, were hurt in the wreck. Reese was charged with failing to yield the right of way.

Sale Of Stores To Be Costly For Kroger Co.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Kroger Co. president James Herring says the firm's decision to discontinue its Family Center discount department stores will result in an after tax extraordinary charge of about $4 million on this year's balance sheet.

But Herring added Monday that the year-end discontinuance of the chain will produce improved earnings "during 1973 and thereafter."

Kroger is a Cincinnati-based company.

The Family Center stores operate in Texas and Louisiana. Sixteen of the 33 Family Center stores are being converted to Kroger "superstores," five have been sold and the other 12 will be closed at yearend and offered for sale.

Peron Says Political Talks Productive

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Juan Peron told a cheering crowd early today he had reached a "historic" accord with other Argentine political leaders for a united approach "in defense of the deserving Argentine people."

The 77-year-old ex-dictator, who returned Friday from 17 years in exile, spoke from the balcony of a suburban restaurant where he had met for nearly six hours with 50 political, union and business leaders.

Fifteen of the country's parties were represented, including the Radicals, the second largest party. The Peronists are No. 1.

Peron gave no details of the agreement he said had been reached, but other political leaders who met with him said the conference was "very positive."

It was Peron's second major political conference within 24 hours. Both were designed to arrange a common front with other parties to balance the power of the armed forces, who have ruled except for two brief interludes since Peron was ousted in 1955.

The junta headed by President Alejandro Lanusse has called elections March 11. It also legalized the Peronist party and removed old criminal charges against Peron, making it possible for him to return home.

Most Rev. Joseph Bernardin To Head Cincy Archdiocese

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pope Paul VI has named the Most Rev. Joseph L. Bernardin archbishop of Cincinnati, it was announced here today.

Bishop Bernardin, 44, who has been general secretary of the National Conference of 4 1/2 years, succeeds the late Archbishop Paul F. Leibold, who died June 1.

The archdiocese of Cincinnati has a total population of 2,677 million including 529,000 Roman Catholics.

BancOhio Affiliation Is Rejected

BancOhio Corporation, Columbus based multi-bank holding company, has reported the rejection of its proposal to acquire The Dime Bank, Canton, by the bank's shareholders.

A spokesman for BancOhio stated that a minority shareholder had voted to reject the BancOhio acquisition proposal during a special meeting of The Dime Bank shareholders held on Nov. 15, 1972. He explained that, subsequent to the acceptance and recommendation by The Dime Bank Board of Directors for the affiliation proposal in July 1972, the minority shareholder made various cash tender offers for all the shares of The Dime Bank and so acquired sufficient shares to reverse the Board's recommendation.

When asked about the Canton developments the BancOhio spokesman said, "BancOhio has acted in accordance with its policy of making no affiliation proposals that would result in earnings dilution to BancOhio shares which could not be recovered in the foreseeable future. Consistent with this policy, BancOhio, in response to the cash tender offers, did not make a subsequent proposal."

BancOhio currently has pending the affiliations of Capital National Bank, Cleveland, The Western Security Bank, Sandusky, The Peoples Savings Bank Company, Delta, and The Peoples National Bank of Greenfield. In addition, BancOhio's subsidiary, Community National Bank, Loveland, has an application pending before the Comptroller of the Currency to merge with Citizens Bank, NA, in Clermont County.

Lancione's selection, made by a standing applause vote, was carried out in the House chambers with newsmen, wives and secretaries for Democratic legislators looking on.

Democrats will control the House 58-41 in the General Assembly, that convenes Jan. 1. Republicans will have at least a 17-16 edge in the Senate.

Lancione said the Democratic victory was "a challenge to us to do these things the people have wanted to do these many years."

"Sometimes the party that has been in office too long fails to listen," he said. "I think that's the reason we're here today."

Lancione said a code of ethics bill and reform of Ohio's election laws were two major pieces of legislation he thought the new legislature would consider.

Gov. John Gilligan had been scheduled to address the caucus, but spoke instead to members at a luncheon preceding it.

Racial Incidents In Navy Probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee began a formal investigation Monday of racial incidents aboard two U.S. aircraft carriers to determine, as the chairman said, if they involve permissiveness and a breakdown of Navy discipline.

"The committee has maintained that racial problems within the military must be resolved," Chairman Floyd V. Hicks, D-Wash., said in an opening statement.

"The solutions, however, must in no way derogate from the requirement for absolute discipline."

The 1973 Levi's Gremlin—it's the car that wears the pants.

AMERICAN MOTORS BUYER PROTECTION PLAN

1. A simple, strong guarantee. When you buy a new 1973 car from an American Motors dealer, American Motors Corporation guarantees to you that except for tires, it will pay for the repair or replacement of any part it supplies that is defective in material or workmanship. This guarantee is good for 12 months from the date the car is first used or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. All we require is that the car be properly maintained and cared for under normal use and service in the fifty United States or Canada, and that guaranteed repairs or replacement be made by an American Motors dealer.
2. A free loaner car from almost every one of our dealers if guaranteed repairs take overnight.
3. Special Trip Interruption Protection.
4. And a toll free hot line to AMC Headquarters.

Deputies Investigate Two Injury Accidents

BLACKOUT—Wreckage of Tim Brigner's station wagon lays in a field off Route 316 after he crashed into an Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies responded to two injury accidents about 6:30 p.m. Monday in separate parts of the county.

Most serious of the accidents threw the Commercial Point area into total darkness as a teenage Mt. Sterling youth lost control of his car on Route 316 and severed electrical connections.

Deputies Don Thompson and John Bost said Timothy Brigner, 16, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, was driving eastbound on Route 316 when he lost control of his station wagon and went left of center for 143 feet.

Brigner brought the car back across the center line for 48 feet, but went off the right side where he ran head-on into the electric pole, snapping it in two sections.

The car came to rest 82 feet farther in a field and on its top after rolling several times. Brigner was treated at Berger Hospital's emergency room for a broken nose and chest injuries.

Passengers in his car were also injured. They were Larry Angle, 16, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, abrasions to the top of his head and right hand; David Shannon, 16, Route 3, Mt. Sterling, abrasions to his back and a bruised right knee; and Arthur Dick, Jr., 16, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, large lacerations to his head, a lacerated right elbow and bruised left knee.

The car was a total loss. Also destroyed were 115 feet of wire fence and nine steel posts owned by June Sheets, Route 1, Williamsport, and two

Most Rev. Joseph Bernardin To Head Cincy Archdiocese

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pope Paul VI has named the Most Rev. Joseph L. Bernardin archbishop of Cincinnati, it was announced here today.

Bishop Bernardin, 44, who has been general secretary of the National Conference of 4½ years, succeeds the late Archbishop Paul F. Leibold, who died June 1.

The archdiocese of Cincinnati has a total population of 2.67 million including 529,000 Roman Catholics.

BancOhio Affiliation Is Rejected

BancOhio Corporation, Columbus based multi-bank holding company, has reported the rejection of its proposal to acquire The Dime Bank, Canton, by the bank's shareholders.

A spokesman for BancOhio stated that a minority shareholder had voted to reject the BancOhio acquisition proposal during a special meeting of The Dime Bank shareholders held on Nov. 15, 1972. He explained that, subsequent to the acceptance and recommendation by The Dime Bank Board of Directors for the affiliation proposal in July 1972, the minority shareholder made various cash tender offers for all the shares of The Dime Bank and so acquired sufficient shares to reverse the Board's recommendation.

When asked about the Canton developments the BancOhio spokesman said, "BancOhio has acted in accordance with its policy of making no affiliation proposals that would result in earnings dilution to BancOhio shares which could not be recovered in the foreseeable future. Consistent with this policy, BancOhio, in response to the cash tender offers, did not make a subsequent proposal."

BancOhio currently has pending the affiliations of Capital National Bank, Cleveland, The Western Security Bank, Sandusky, The Peoples Savings Bank Company, Delta, and The Peoples National Bank of Greenfield. In addition, BancOhio's subsidiary, Community National Bank, Loveland, has an application pending before the Comptroller of the Currency to merge with Citizens Bank, NA, in Clermont County.

Neither Reese, nor passenger Roy Alley, 27, Ashville, were hurt in the wreck. Reese was charged with failing to yield the right of way.

Sale Of Stores To Be Costly For Kroger Co.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Kroger Co. president James Herring says the firm's decision to discontinue its Family Center discount department stores will result in an after tax extraordinary charge of about $4 million on this year's balance sheet.

But Herring added Monday that the year-end discontinuance of the chain will produce improved earnings "during 1973 and thereafter."

Kroger is a Cincinnati-based company. The Family Center stores operate in Texas and Louisiana. Sixteen of the 33 Family Center stores are being converted to Kroger "superstores," five have been sold and the other 12 will be closed at yearend and offered for sale.

Payne Trained By General Tel

Howard P. Payne of Atlanta, an installer repairman, has received a certificate for completing a course in basic electricity at General Telephone Co. of Ohio's Plant Training School here.

A graduate of Westfall High School, he has been with the company one and one-half years. He works in the Ashville exchange in the company's Circleville district.

Payne previously completed two other specialized courses in the company's training program.

House Chief

Lancione's selection, made by a standing applause vote, was carried out in the House chambers with newsmen, wives and secretaries for Democratic legislators looking on.

Democrats will control the House 58-41 in the General Assembly, that convenes Jan. 1. Republicans will have at least a 17-16 edge in the Senate.

Lancione said the Democratic victory was "a challenge to us to do these things the people have wanted to do these many years."

"Sometimes the party that has been in office too long fails to listen," he said. "I think that's the reason we're here today."

Lancione said a code of ethics bill and reform of Ohio's election laws were two major pieces of legislation he thought the new legislature would consider.

Gov. John Gilligan had been scheduled to address the caucus, but spoke instead to members at a luncheon preceding it.

Racial Incidents In Navy Probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee began a formal investigation Monday of racial incidents aboard two U.S. aircraft carriers to determine, as the chairman said, if they involve permissiveness and a breakdown of Navy discipline.

"The committee has maintained that racial problems within the military must be resolved," Chairman Floyd V. Hicks, D-Wash., said in an opening statement.

"The solutions, however, must in no way derogate from the requirement for absolute discipline."

We do it in our power to have all our Advertisers' Specials on our shelves when you shop for them. Sometimes due to conditions beyond our control, we run out of an advertised special. If this should happen to you, ask the store manager for a "Rainy CHECK" which entitles you to the same advertised special at the same special price any time within 2 weeks.
